SIXTY-FOURTH
ANNUAL REPORT

OF

THE MOUNT SINAI
HOSPITAL

OF THE

CITY OF NEW YORK

JANUARY, 1917

HISTORICAL NOTE

The Mount Sinai Hospital was organized and incorporated in 1852, for "benevolent, charitable and scientific purposes." The Hospital's first building was a small private dwelling in 28th Street, between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, which accommodated 28 patients. The institution was originally named the Jews' Hospital of the City of New York; the title was changed to the Mount Sinai Hospital in 1886.

In 1871 the Hospital completed and occupied, at Lexington Avenue, 66th and 67th Streets, a new building having a capacity of 200 beds. At this time the Dispensary or Out-patient department was inaugurated.

The Mount Sinai Training School for Nurses, in affiliation with the Hospital, was incorporated March, 1881.

A district medical and nursing service was inaugurated in 1886.

In 1893, a room in the hospital building was assigned to the Pathological Department and equipped as a laboratory.

The cornerstone of the Hospital buildings occupying the block bounded by Fifth and Madison Avenues, 100th and 101st Streets, was laid May 22nd, 1901, and the buildings were completed and occupied March 15th, 1904.

The work of the Social Service Department was begun in 1907.

In 1910 the Dispensary was altered from a three-story to a five-story building, and the Nurses' Home from a six-story to an eight-story building. At the same time the present Isolation Wards were erected.

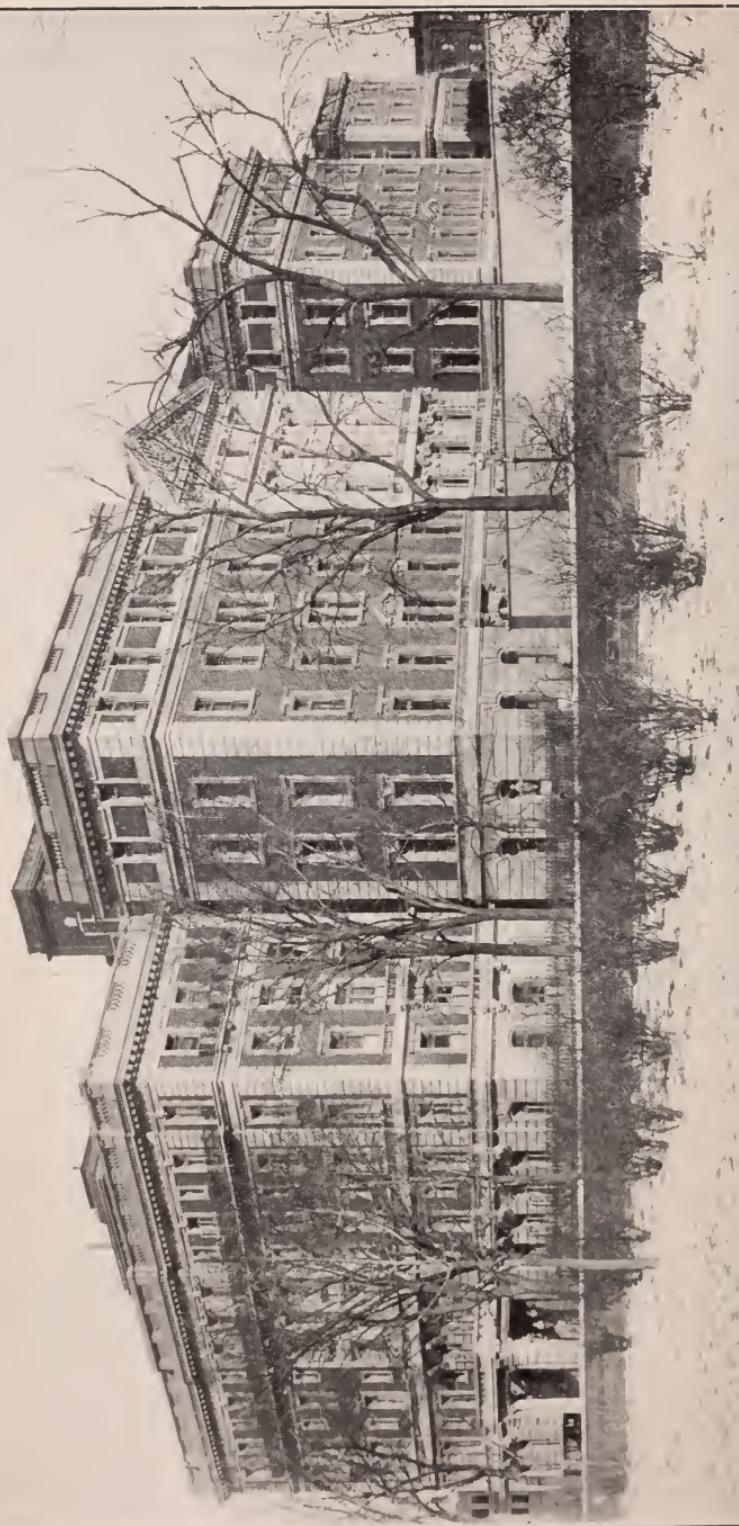

In 1912, Roof Wards for out-door treatment were erected on the Medical and Surgical Pavilions.

The Hospital now has accommodations for 509 patients. Upon the completion of the buildings now in course of erection on the block bounded by Fifth and Madison Avenues, 99th and 100th Streets, the capacity of the Hospital will be increased to 765 beds.

Upon motion, duly seconded, the reading of the minutes of the annual meeting held January 23rd, 1916, and the reading of the Treasurer's report were dispensed with; the President then presented the annual report, which upon motion, duly seconded, was ordered to be printed and sent to the members of the Hospital.

Notice having been sent to the members of the proposed change in the Constitution, upon motion, duly seconded, it was resolved to substitute the word "Trustees" for "Directors" and "Trustee" for "Director" wherever they may occur in the Constitution.

Dr. Harry Plotz and Dr. George Baehr addressed the meeting upon the discovery of the typhus germ and their experiences in Europe in the treatment of the typhus epidemic.

The President announced that the election of Trustees would take place and those members qualified to vote would find the ballot box in the adjoining room.

Upon motion, duly seconded, the meeting adjourned.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

To the Donors, Associate Donors, Patrons and Members:

The most important event affecting Jewish charitable and philanthropic institutions of our city in the past year has been the formation of the Federation of Contributors. The Federation movement had the hearty support and co-operation of your Board, and its representatives took an active part in the working out of the plan of organization. Several previous efforts to bring about federation failed, mainly because a large proportion of the community were not at the time in sympathy with the movement, and because any such movement can only be successful if it has the unanimous support of all the parties concerned. In an undertaking of such magnitude, involving such vast changes in institutional methods long established and considered almost sacred, strong leadership is one of the most essential factors, and the Federation was indeed fortunate in obtaining Mr. Felix Warburg's consent to assume the Presidency. Under Mr. Warburg's able guidance, and due to his indefatigable efforts and those of his colleagues, success has been assured, and it is hoped that results will finally be obtained surpassing by far the expectations even of those who have been most optimistic. We feel confident that Mount Sinai Hospital, as well as every other deserving institution, will greatly benefit through the Federation, and we appeal to our friends to give to it their wholehearted support.

The high cost of all food materials, drugs and other articles required by the Hospital, as well as the considerable increase in the wages of employees, especially of the lower rank, have caused a serious disturbance in the budget of the Institution. Notwithstanding the fact that we were compelled to close Ward "M" containing 15 beds, owing to the excavations going on underneath the same, and therefore had a smaller average number of patients in the Hospital, the current disbursements have risen from $467,899. in 1915 to $531,813. in 1916—an increase of $63,914., leaving a deficit against current receipts of about $45,600., all of which has been made up by voluntary contributions of your Trustees. To give a concrete example of the great increase in the cost of provisions, I call attention to the fact that owing to the recent flurry in the milk trade, the present cost of this one article to the Hospital is at the rate of $7,000 more per annum than in the preceding twelve months.

I mentioned last year that the Messrs. Guggenheim had agreed to add about $194,000 to their former gift of $200,000, thereby making possible the erection of a new Private Patient Pavilion to accommodate a much larger number than the present one. Close study of the problem showed that a building of satisfactory dimensions and character could not be erected for the amount agreed upon, and when the matter was again presented to the Messrs. Guggenheim, they responded with the generosity to which they have now accustomed us, and increased the amount of their new donation by $165,000, making the total appropriation for the new building, $559,000, entirely contributed by them.

We have received from Miss Rosie Bernheimer and Mrs. Florence B. Walter, $50,000, for the endowment of a Memorial Ward of ten beds in memory of their mother, the late Mrs. Adolph Bernheimer. Miss Bernheimer was the first one who endowed a ward in our Hospital, and we are grateful to her and to Mrs. Walter for this new evidence of interest in our institution. At present, Ward "B" has been designated for this endowment, but it has been agreed that when the Private Pavilion is remodeled for ward purposes, the Bernheimer Memorial Ward will be placed in said building.

Our Trustee, Mr. Chas. A. Wimpfheimer, has given the Hospital $150,000 for the endowment in the same building of wards for the surgical treatment of diseases of the stomach and intestines, containing twenty beds for male patients and ten beds for female patients. Temporarily we have set aside one of the large wards in the surgical building for this purpose.

This donation is only one of Mr. Wimpfheimer's many expressions of interest in the Hospital, and it is sincerely hoped that his example will stimulate others to similar acts of generosity.

Besides the Bernheimer and the Wimpfheimer Wards, there will also be the Sachs Wards in the present Private Pavilion after the contemplated changes have been made. I wish to express to Messrs. Samuel and Harry Sachs the appreciation of the Board for their patient forbearance, for when they made the generous gift of $125,000 to the Hospital it was expected that the wards endowed by them would be permanently installed by this time.

The following beds were endowed during the past year:

LIFE BEDS.

In memory of Joseph Honig, founded by Louise H. Mandelbaum ..... $1,500
Acknowledgement of which is gratefully made.

Mrs. Paul Gottheil, the wife of our late Trustee, has established in his memory an Endowment Fund of $10,000.

We received during the year in Legacies and Bequests the amount of $60,257.93.

There is a mistaken idea prevalent in the community that Mount Sinai Hospital has sufficient resources. It would be very unfortunate if this impression should gain ground, as it would seriously interfere with the progress of the institution, which is now more than ever in need of generous support. The expenses of an institution like ours naturally increase continuously even when the service remains stationary, and with the expected increase in facilities of over 50%, much larger amounts will be needed to make both ends meet. Institutions like ours should be largely endowed, and at present Mount Sinai Hospital is in this respect far behind similar institutions in this city. As stated just now, we received from legacies in the year 1916 $60,257.93. I have not yet the reports of other hospitals for the same period, but in 1915 one hospital in this city received legacies amounting to $596,000, another unrestricted legacies and gifts totalling nearly $700,000, and similar donations are chronicled nearly every year. In proportion to the extent and the cost of our current work, Mount Sinai Hospital's invested funds are certainly very meagre, and their upbuilding is an essential requirement.

Four years ago I first brought to your attention the necessity of a larger Mount Sinai Hospital, and it was then expected that by this time we might be able to invite you to inspect the new additions. Coming here this morning you saw what has been thus far accomplished. We have made a beginning, but the largest part remains to be executed.

The program originally outlined proved to be far below our real needs; hence the present scope of our undertaking is more than double what was originally contemplated. Many unforeseen events have greatly retarded the progress of the work with which we are occupied. Times too poor to collect funds alternated with times too good to permit building, owing to the conditions they created in the building trade. While not actively engaged in building just now, with the exception of putting the finishing touches on the Children's Dispensary, endowed by Mr. and Mrs. William I. Walter, the new Pathological Building, the Servants' Dormitory and the Director's House, we are by no means idle. We are doing all we can to obtain additional funds and the plans for the remaining construction are making headway. To give some idea of the difficulties we encountered, let me state that to build the tunnel connecting the old buildings with the new, we had to cut through solid rock, partly under the surgical wards, a work which has been going on for months and which will require another three months before it is completed.

We expect to open the new Children's Dispensary in the near future, and its inauguration will clear the way for much better service not only for the children but also for adults in the present Dispensary.

The establishment of a consultation clinic for paying patients has been finally decided upon, under rules and regulations which will commend themselves to the public and to the medical fraternity as well. The consultation clinic will prove a boon to patients in modest circumstances. In order to avoid any possible abuse, it is proposed to limit admission to the clinics to patients whose circumstances and whose need for specialists' attention are vouched for by their family practitioners. As a contribution to the general welfare, the Hospital will contribute gratis the use of its dispensary plant and the services of its general administration.

Immediately after the outbreak of the epidemic of Infantile Paralysis the Hospital placed at the disposal of the Commissioner of Health thirty-two beds for such cases, in which, during the epidemic, we took care of fifty-five patients, of whom thirteen recovered completely and nine died, most of the deaths occurring within a few days after admission. The great majority of these patients were taken care of in one of the wards of the Children's Pavilion, and the fact that not a single case of contagion developed either among the nurses, patients or employees, supports the view that Poliomyelitis, in its later clinical manifestations, is in no way contagious. The work was organized in the following way: A ward was set apart in the Children's Pavilion and also beds in the Isolation Ward. The medical organization was as follows: Dr. I. Strauss, Neurologist; Dr. P. Wm. Nathan, Orthopedist; Dr. Herman Schwarz, Pediatrician; Dr. N. Rosenthal, paid House Physician, giving full time to the work with one unpaid assistant. Dr. B. S. Salzer was appointed as special research worker in the Laboratory. The Pediatrician, Neurologist and Orthopedist each had one assistant at their disposal who gave part of the day without compensation. There was also attached to the service a paid physical therapist and a stenographer, and Dr. E. Libman acted as Chairman of the entire clinical and laboratory group.

The ward was closed late in September, the Department of Health then having enough room in its own hospitals to take care of the remaining cases.

In addition to the above, many cases were taken care of for a short period in the Observation Ward, and then transferred to the Willard Parker Hospital. Cases that had not recovered after a period of eight weeks' isolation in the Hospital, were sent home or to the Montefiore Home, which had kindly put a number of beds at the disposal of the Hospital. Cases remaining in the ward at the time that the service was discontinued were sent to the Willard Parker Hospital or to Riverside Hospital. It is expected that the men who studied the cases will later report any observations that are of value.

I take this opportunity to call attention to the splendid work performed by our Dispensary staff. This work is no less trying than that done in the hospital wards, but in a general way it is less appreciated, perhaps because it is less understood. The dispensary physician works under disadvantages as compared to the hospital physician. His material is not prepared, so to say, by a resident staff of junior assistants, but requires immediate diagnosis and relief, and all the work must be done by the dispensary physician himself.

During the past year the consultations in our Dispensary reached the enormous number of 243,161. Numerous patients present themselves at the Dispensary with no realization of the fact that their condition really requires hospital attention, and when such cases are diagnosed in the dispensary they are promptly transferred to the hospital. After treatment has been given to the patient in the hospital and his condition is such as to require only intermittent attention, we are enabled to use his bed for one of the many on our waiting list only because we can rely upon the Dispensary staff to give the necessary later treatment. The dispensary clinic chiefs and their assistants take valuable time from their private practice in order that our out-patient service may be successfully carried on, and we realize that the closer co-operation of the Hospital and the Dispensary will redound not only to the benefit of each unit, but to more efficient work of the institution as a whole.

It is manifestly impossible within the confines of this brief report to express our appreciation to each of the Dispensary physicians by name, but it certainly deserves to be noted that the following chiefs of clinic have rendered continuous and most satisfactory service for a period of ten years or longer, and our thanks are tendered to them for having given so generously of their time and professional skill: Drs. Arthur Bookman, George Mannheimer, Joseph Davidson, David D. Goldstein, Henry Heiman, Sara Welt, F. L. Wachenheim, Milton J. Ballin, I. L. Goodfried, Sidney Yankauer, Julius Wolff, Archie Oberdorfer, Selina Bloom, I. Abrahamson, Benjamin Rosenbluth, H. Goldenberg, W. A. Rodgers, Henry Koles, Samuel Stern, E. P. Bernstein.

During the fall, a large number of children and a certain number of adults convalescing from infantile paralysis began to make their appearance in the Dispensary, adding to the pressure on the already overcrowded Departments of Neurology and Orthopedics. In order to meet this demand, a special division for the treatment of infantile paralysis has been established in charge of a clinical staff, which includes orthopedists, neurologists and electro-therapeutists, assisted by two graduate nurses who spent part of their time in the clinic and part in visiting the homes of patients for purposes of instruction in muscle re-education and of after-care generally. The major part of the cost of maintaining this special department for the treatment of infantile paralysis for the current year was met by a special gift of $5,000, made by Mr. Louis J. Horowitz.

Closely connected with the work in the Hospital and in the Dispensary is the Social Service Department. Under the leadership of Mrs. Herbert H. Lehman, a new auxiliary was formed to co-operate with our Social Service Department. The new Committee started work late last spring, and in this comparatively short time has accomplished remarkably good results. The necessity of Social Service work in a hospital is well established; such an auxiliary does an immense amount of good, and the ladies on this Committee have won our gratitude by not only giving their personal service unstintedly on behalf of the convalescent sick and the families of hospital inmates, but also by securing by their own efforts the necessary means to carry on their work.

The relations of the United States with Mexico, as well as the general international situation, impressed upon our Government the necessity of more complete organization of the medical forces of the country in case of war, and as the logical medium for such service the American Red Cross was asked to undertake the formation of Red Cross Units, so that they would be ready at a moment's call in case of emergency. The Mount Sinai Hospital Unit was organized under the direction of Dr. N. E. Brill, and is ready to respond if called upon.

The thanks of the Board are due to the physicians, surgeons, nurses and lay members who have voluntarily enrolled, as well as to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Blumenthal, who have furnished the necessary funds, and to the supply committee headed by Mrs. Jesse I. Straus. Let us hope that there will be no occasion to call into active service those who so readily placed their services at the disposal of their country.

In pursuance of my remarks of last year in regard to the typhus expedition to Serbia, I wish to state that Drs. George Baehr and Harry Plotz after many difficulties established a laboratory at Belgrade in a hospital directed by the American Red Cross. Thirty-six hours before the bombardment of Belgrade, they left for Uskub and there set up a laboratory in the Lady Paget Hospital, and shortly thereafter the town was occupied by the Bulgarians. Very soon afterwards they were invited by the Bulgarian and Austrian Governments to work under their auspices. They then left for Sofia and afterwards went to Vienna, Lemberg and into Russia, and they will themselves give you a little later some details about their work and experiences.

Because of the fact that Drs. Baehr and Plotz during the first six months of their stay in Europe, practically did not come in contact with typhus fever, it was considered important to send a second expedition into Mexico to determine the cause of the Mexican typhus fever, and to carry on other work which at that time we were not sure could be carried on in Europe. The second expedition consisted of Drs. Peter K. Olitzky and Bernard S. Denzer, accompanied by Mr. Irving Brout, a laboratory helper, and the expedition was under the guidance and care of Dr. Carlos E. Husk, a prominent surgeon attached to the staff of the American Smelting & Refining Co. The expenses of the expedition were defrayed in part by Trustees of the Mount Sinai Hospital and in part by the American Smelting & Refining Co.

It was first decided to go to Aguascalientes, but after the expedition reached Matehuala it was determined to remain there, as even at that distance from the border the danger, because of disturbances of international conditions, was very great. Early in March, because of the increasing danger in which the men were placed, they were requested to return. The members of the expedition did not, however, leave, because Dr. Olitzky had been stricken with a severe attack of typhus fever. Very shortly thereafter, the plants of the American Smelting & Refining Co. throughout Mexico were closed down, and Dr. Olitzky had to be removed to Laredo, Texas. Just before the departure Dr. Husk, who had been of the greatest aid in the accomplishment of a remarkable piece of work within four weeks, also fell ill of typhus fever, and was brought into Laredo in a very serious condition. Dr. Olitzky after going through a most dangerous attack of the disease, recovered, but unfortunately it proved impossible to save Dr. Husk's life.

During the course of this expedition the same germ was found in the typhus fever cases in Mexico as had been found in New York and as was found by the members of the European expedition in Serbia, Bulgaria, Austria and Russia. Apart from that, the typhus germ was cultivated repeatedly from lice, which have in recent years been considered the agent in transferring typhus fever from one person to another. Some further scientific studies were made, and vaccination done on a rather large scale. The results of the vaccination cannot be determined at the present time because of the unsettled conditions in Mexico.

Mr. Meyer H. Lehman and Mr. Albert W. Scholle have resigned as Trustees, after having given many years of valuable service to the institution. Mr. Lehman having been a member of the Board for almost twenty years has been elected an honorary trustee, and Mr. Scholle remains a trustee of the Training School, of which institution he has been the President and one of the most active directors for a long period. We thus will have the benefit of the continued counsel of these two gentlemen.

To fill the vacancies in the Board, Messrs. M. Frankfurt and Myron T. Falk were elected Trustees.

We regret to report the death of our former Trustee, Mr. Jacob Frankenthal, and of 45 of our contributors.

The devotion and efficiency of the attending medical and surgical staffs of the Hospital are of the highest order, and the good results achieved are only the logical outcome thereof.

The most important adjunct of the Hospital is the Training School for Nurses. Next to the skill of the doctor, the efficiency of the nurse is by far the most important part of the treatment of the patient. In the printed report a statement will appear giving interesting facts concerning the School, so ably directed by Miss Greener.

The Ladies' Auxiliary Society has as usual handled most admirably its ever increasing work, and we wish to express our grateful appreciation to its able leaders, Mesdames M. H. Moses, J. A. Cook, M. M. Bernheimer, Julius Beer and J. A. Arnold.

We also extend our thanks to the city authorities and to our sister institutions for their co-operation; to Messrs. Hoadly, Lauterbach and Johnson for continuing to take care of our legal department, and to the members of our medical, nursing and administrative staffs for their unfailing efforts on behalf of the institution.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE BLUMENTHAL,

President.

TRAINING SCHOOL REPORT

To the Patrons and Members:

The Training School has been singularly fortunate in enrolling full classes of probationers of good quality at a time when many Training Schools experienced considerable difficulty in obtaining pupils. The educational standard now consistently maintained by the Training School is higher than that which is called for by the regulations of the State Department of Education. According to these regulations, qualifying certificates for admission to registered schools can be obtained by pupils who have to their credit one year of high school work or its equivalent. The majority of the pupils admitted to the Mount Sinai Training School are high school graduates, with a fair representation of normal school and college graduates.

The curriculum of the Training School has been markedly improved. A well balanced preliminary course has been definitely established, considerable new class room equipment installed, the Training School reference library greatly enlarged and improved, a study room provided and a new record system instituted for the School. Training School instructors from other cities and states and from Canada have visited this School for the purpose of studying its methods. The course of instruction which is given to our probationers is now being copied in other representative schools.

Years ago the presence of a large number of pupil nurses in the hospital was held to be justified on two grounds, first on account of the training which the pupils received, which fitted them for private duty nursing and second, on account of the saving of wages which the presence of pupil nurses represented. The value of the Hospital's Training School to the community is as great as ever, but a Training School conducted on liberal lines is no longer a source of saving to the Hospital. Calculation shows that the nursing of the Hospital could be done today at approximately the same cost if pupils were entirely eliminated and graduate nurses were employed, though the quality of the nursing would doubtless deteriorate in the absence of educational work and aims.

Under modern conditions pupil nurses require more space for their accommodation, a considerable corps of paid instructors is maintained for their benefit, qualified supervisors are employed in all branches of the work in order to maintain the highest possible standards and the heavier and more responsible work in the principal wards of the Hospital and in the operating room, dispensary, social service department, etc., is largely in the hands of graduates who have been specially trained for the work.

An interesting analysis of the statistics of the School show that while the educational qualifications for nurses entering the School is considerably higher, the age of admission has become relatively lower. Over 60 per cent. of the nurses admitted during the past year were between the ages of nineteen and twenty. This fact has been carefully considered in dealing with the younger class of women now in training, who have been given the protection of more immediate supervision, not only in the wards of the Hospital, but also in the Nurses' Home. A house mother has recently been appointed who assumes the responsibility for all ordinary social activities of the Nurses' Home and acts as chaperon and companion to the pupils during the evening hours.

Fifty-three recent graduates of the School have taken their State Board examination during this year. All passed successfully and a very creditable number were awarded purple seals.

Our post-graduate course of training has been eliminated during the past six months in order that the Training School might respond to at least a few of the requests coming to us from small general hospitals all over the eastern states, for affiliation for their pupil nurses. Five schools have enrolled their students with us during the past six months, two from New York, two from Massachusetts and one from Maine. The only post-graduate course considered in future by the School will be for distinctly executive work. There is opportunity in our Hospital for exceptional work in this line which calls for development in the near future.

During the early summer, the Superintendent of Nurses was requested by the National Red Cross Nursing Department to organize a corps of fifty nurses to sign the muster roll of the Mount Sinai Base Hospital Unit for immediate service if required. This muster roll was completed before September first and was made up entirely of graduates of our own School.

The official staff of the Training School at present includes:

1	Superintendent of Nurses
1	Assistant Superintendent
2	Instructors
8	Supervisors
5	Operating Room Assistants
16	Head Nurses
2	Registrars
1	Matron of Nurses' Home
36	Total

In addition there are ten graduate social service workers.

The average number of pupils in the Training School during the past year is as follows:

Seniors .....	51
Intermediates .....	60
Juniors .....	50
Probationers .....	19
Nurses in training.....	180
Post-graduates .....	7
Affiliated Nurses .....	6 (Since September 1, 1916)
Total average .....	193

During the past year, eight hundred and eighty-three letters of application and inquiry were received. Of this number of applicants, ninety were selected for admission, sixty-six of whom remain in the School today.

A study covering a period of the last three years indicates that about thirty per cent. of all students admitted leave the school for various causes during the first year. A large proportion of this group is eliminated during the probationary course of training and leave by request. The most common causes for withdrawal are lack of physical stamina, unexpected changes in home conditions, dis-taste for the work, inability to keep up with the required class work, and homesickness.

A schedule of our class work as arranged in years and subjects is herewith attached:

- A Contribution of $1,500 to the General Fund of the Hospital, if accepted by the Board of Directors, shall endow a Life Bed. Such a contribution shall entitle the donor thereof, during his or her lifetime, to name a patient from time to time to use and occupy one bed in the general wards of the main Hospital, free of charge.
- A Contribution of $2,500 to the General Fund of the Hospital, if accepted by the Board of Directors, shall endow a Memorial Bed. Such a contribution shall entitle the donor thereof, during his or her lifetime, to name a patient from time to time to use and occupy one bed in the main Hospital free of charge. Such donor may bequeath that right to a successor appointed by the said donor in his or her last will and testament, or by any other instrument under seal. In the event of such successor being appointed, the rights hereinbefore mentioned shall continue for a period of not over fifty years from the date of such contribution—such period, however, not to end before ten years from the death of the donor.
- A Contribution of $5,000 to the General Fund of the Hospital, if accepted by the Board of Directors, shall endow a Perpetual Bed, but where, under the provision of any will executed prior to January 1, 1902, the sum of $2,500 or more is bequeathed to the Hospital in payment of any Perpetual Bed, the Board of Directors may, at their option, accept such sum in payment of such Perpetual Bed. Such contribution shall entitle the donor thereof, during his or her lifetime, to name a patient from time to time to use and occupy one bed in the general wards of the main Hospital, free of charge. Such donor may bequeath that right to a successor appointed by said donor in his or her last will and testament, or by any other instrument under seal.

When a corporation is the donor, the privilege shall expire at the end of twenty-five years from the date of such contribution.

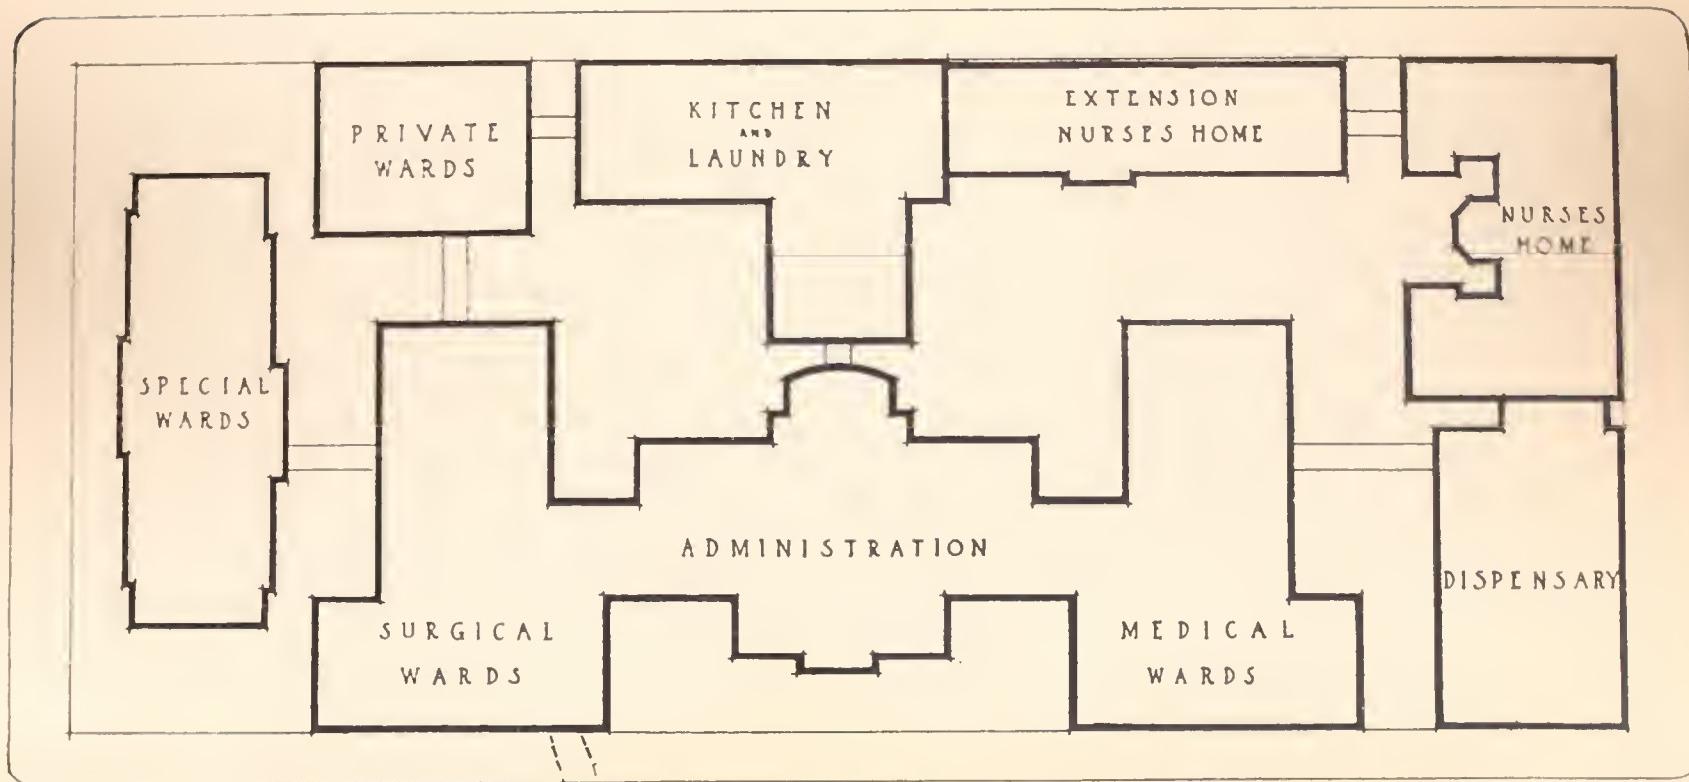

Tablets to commemorate the endowment of Life and Memorial Beds shall be placed in the ward selected by the donor, subject to the rules of the Hospital. Tablets for Life Beds shall be maintained during the life of the donor; tablets for Memorial Beds for a period not beyond fifty years from the date of their endowment, such a period, however, not to end before ten years from the death of the donor. The endowment of a Perpetual Bed shall entitle the donor, or his legal representative, to have a tablet placed in the ward selected by him, or by them, or to have the endowment recorded on a tablet provided for that purpose in the corridor of the Hospital; such tablets shall be maintained in perpetuity.

A donor may change a Life Bed endowed by him or her to a Memorial Bed by making an additional contribution of $1,000, or to a Perpetual Bed by making an additional contribution of $3,500, or may change a Memorial Bed to a Perpetual Bed by making an additional contribution of $2,500.

No patient shall occupy a Life, Memorial or Perpetual Bed unless he shall comply with the current rules of the Hospital and be a proper subject for treatment according to its regulations.

An endowment for the establishing of any special fund may be accepted by a resolution of the Board of Directors. Such fund may be created either for a special purpose, in which event the income therefrom shall be devoted to such purpose only, or under the name of one or more persons, in which event the income therefrom shall be devoted to the general purposes of the Hospital. Such endowment funds shall be kept by the Treasurer as special accounts. Contributions to existing funds may be made at any time, but no funds shall be created with an initial endowment of less than Ten Thousand Dollars.

OF THE

CITY OF NEW YORK

FOR THE YEAR 1918

HISTORICAL NOTE

The Mount Sinai Hospital was organized and incorporated in 1852, for "benevolent, charitable and scientific purposes." The Hospital's first building was a small private dwelling in 28th Street, between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, which accommodated 28 patients. The institution was originally named the Jews' Hospital of the City of New York; the title was changed to the Mount Sinai Hospital in 1886.

In 1871 the Hospital completed and occupied, at Lexington Avenue, 66th and 67th Streets, a new building having a capacity of 200 beds. At this time the Dispensary or Out-patient department was inaugurated.

The Mount Sinai Training School for Nurses, in affiliation with the Hospital, was incorporated March, 1881.

A district medical and nursing service was inaugurated in 1886.

In 1893, a room in the hospital building was assigned to the Pathological Department and equipped as a laboratory.

The cornerstone of the Hospital buildings occupying the block bounded by Fifth and Madison Avenues, 100th and 101st Streets, was laid May 22nd, 1901, and the buildings were completed and occupied March 15th, 1904.

The work of the Social Service Department was begun in 1907.

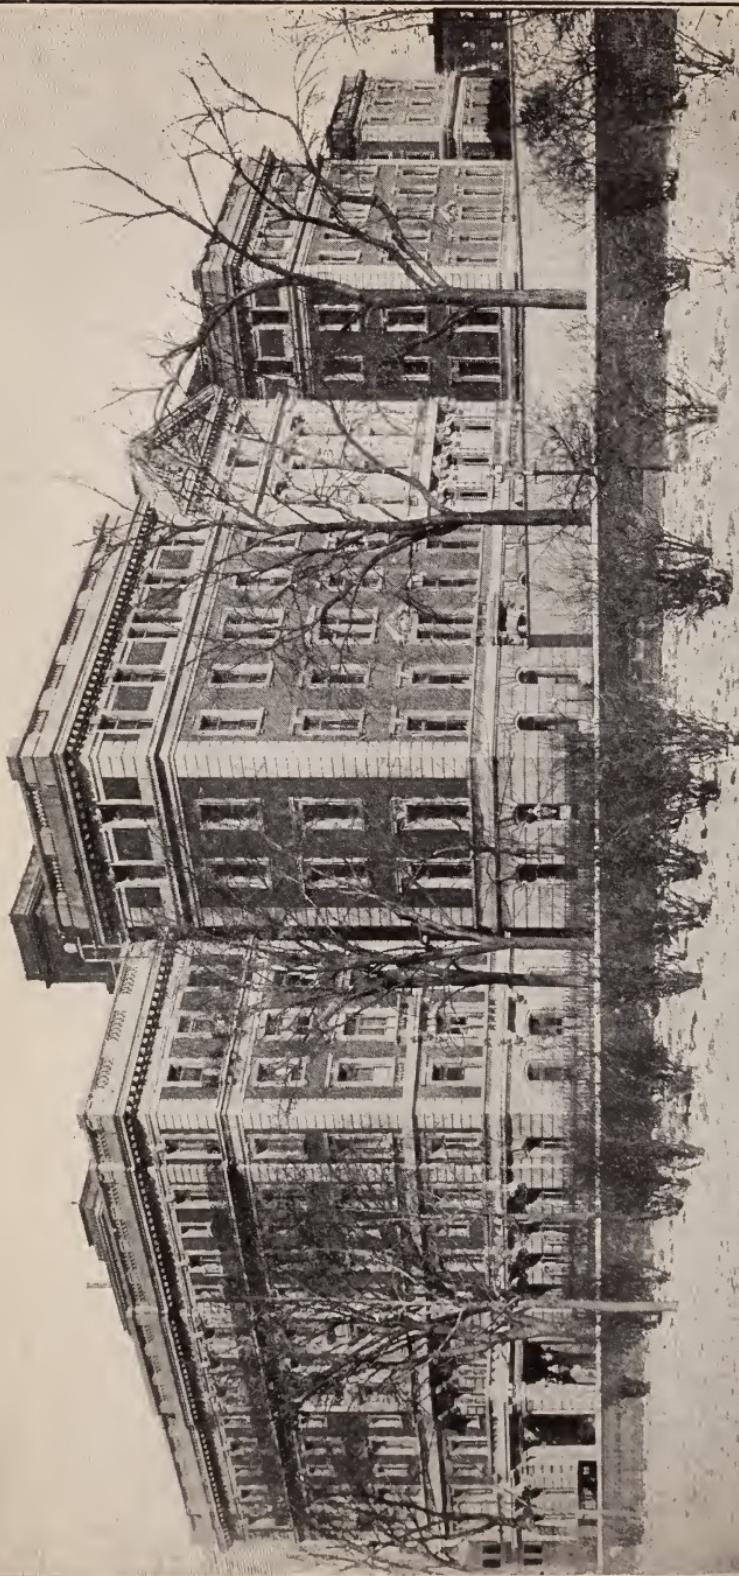

In 1910 the Dispensary was altered from a three-story to a five-story building, and the Nurses' Home from a six-story to an eight-story building. At the same time the present Isolation Wards were erected.

In 1912, Roof Wards for out-door treatment were erected on the Medical and Surgical Pavilions.

The Hospital now has accommodations for 511 patients.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT.

To the Donors, Associate Donors, Patrons, and Members:

Owing to war conditions, our principal efforts during the year were necessarily directed toward keeping the organization and work of the Hospital as nearly as possible up to the standards set up in previous years, and the difficulties which this task presented precluded any attempt to undertake new work.

During the early part of the year, owing probably to the fact that labor was so fully employed at good wages, to the cessation of immigration, and to the removal of many families to the munition factory centers, there was a considerable falling off in dispensary attendance and also less call on the Hospital than in ordinary times, and we took advantage of the situation to thoroughly renovate such of our wards as particularly needed repair.

While we were in the midst of this work the influenza epidemic broke out, and not only did applications for admission multiply, but unfortunately we also had a great many victims of the epidemic amongst our pupil and graduate nurses; to take care of these, we suspended the renovation of two of our children's wards, which became temporarily a nurses' infirmary. At one time we had under our care as many as 42 sick nurses. Of these, three pupil nurses and two graduates who were taken sick in pursuit of their duties, fell victims to the disease and its complications. It was fortunate that the Children's Pavilion was vacant when the emergency arose, because otherwise we would have been in a quandary how to take care of the nurses who contracted influenza while alleviating the sufferings of others. The incident shows how very important it is that we should have an infirmary for nurses in order to cope with similar situations which are bound to arise from time to time.

We have not yet opened the new dormitory nor the new pathological building, the former because there was no urgent necessity, on account of the smaller number of help employed, and because the postponement of part of our building program made it unnecessary to vacate our old dormitory during the past year, and the latter because so many of our laboratory staff were in the army, necessitating by their absence a reduction in the Hospital's laboratory activities. We expect to put the pathological building into use before the end of the coming year.

During the influenza epidemic the Hospital, in common with all similar institutions, suffered greatly through the lack of nurses, caused by the extraordinary demand from all sides at a time when a very large number had joined the army and were doing service either in Europe or in the camps in this country.

The war being over, it is our intention to resume the construction program at the very earliest possible date. We hope to begin actual work in the spring of 1920, and to complete the new buildings before the end of the following year. It is particularly necessary not to delay matters any longer, as the will of Mr. Einstein puts a time limit on the opening of the new Children's Pavilion, which should be erected with as little delay as possible, and we have several contractual obligations in respect to space in the present private pavilion.

The expenses of the Hospital during the year, amounting to $652,039.48, were covered by receipts of a similar amount, $213,338.43 of which came to us through the Federation. We have every reason to be grateful for the splendid showing made by Federation, which, in a year when high costs necessitated large expenditures by communal institutions, enabled them to carry on their work with undiminished vigor. This was the more remarkable because of the many war demands made upon the community, and on behalf of the Hospital I am glad to give expression to our feeling of appreciation.

and a total of $42,227.42 was received in legacies and bequests, including $25,000 from our former trustee, Meyer H. Lehman.

To all those who have thus remembered our Hospital and contributed to its support we extend our appreciation and thanks, and we again take occasion to point out that Mount Sinai Hospital is unfortunately by no means the rich institution a part of the public supposes it to be. If Mount Sinai is to maintain its position in the Hospital world and contribute its share to the advancement of scientific achievement in the practice of medicine, it urgently requires a continuance of endowments from its many friends.

Base Hospital Unit No. 3, which is the Army designation of the hospital unit furnished by Mount Sinai Hospital, has had a very active service abroad. After its arrival in England the unit was somewhat scattered for a time, but when the hospital at Vau-claire (about 40 miles from Bordeaux) had been fitted out, the doctors and nurses were concentrated at that place. As many as 2,800 patients were taken care of in the hospital at one time, and from reports that have come to us through disinterested channels, we feel that we have good reason to be proud of the work of the unit. I shall not discuss the details of its work, as you will have the pleasure of listening later this morning to remarks by Lieut.-Col. Lilienthal and Major Beer, the former the director of the unit and the latter the chief of its surgical service, Major Dailey, under whose command the unit went to Europe, was detached from the same some months ago and was replaced by Major George Baehr of our own staff. We expect the main body of the unit to arrive in New York within a very short time, and shall be heartily glad to give it a fitting welcome.

Dr. J. J. Pinkus, of our dispensary staff, and a member of the unit, lost his life in France when the house in which he was then staying was blown up and he was hit by a piece of shrapnel. We deeply regret the loss of this efficient and devoted co-worker.

Owing to the absence of so many doctors, numerous temporary changes had to be made in the medical departments of the institution, and it was only through the devotion of the attending staff, the house staff and the nurses that we were able to cope with the many difficulties that presented themselves. I take this occasion to again express to them the deep appreciation of the Board of Trustees for the great help they have given us, with utter disregard of their personal comfort and private interests.

Dr. A. A. Berg, at the request of the Board of Trustees, refrained from entering the army medical service, and during the absence of many of his colleagues was charged with the direction of all the general surgical services except that of Dr. Elsberg, and I wish to thank him for the zeal and efficiency which he displayed in carrying out the larger duties. Dr. Elsberg became a director of the army's School of Neurological Surgery in New York, for which the Hospital was a teaching center.

The arrangement with the Surgeon-General, under which army medical officers attended lectures and demonstrations given at the Hospital by Dr. Sachs, Dr. Elsberg and Dr. Jaches, was continued during the present year. Dr. Jaches was subsequently assigned to a post with the American Expeditionary Forces.

In compliance with the request of the Adjutant General of the State of New York, the Hospital organized Medical Advisory Board No. 13, to assist in the examination of registrants under the Selective Service Act. The work of the Advisory Board was divided into nine specialties, as follows:

- Internal medicine
- Surgery
- Ophthalmology
- Dermatology and venereal diseases
- Neurology
- Ear, nose and throat
- Dental
- Laboratory and X-Ray
- Genito-urinary surgery.

The Board served as a consultation centre in difficult or doubtful cases arising out of the examination of registrants; it was called upon to corroborate facts elicited in examinations by the local boards, and to aid in the detection of malingerers and of men attempting to evade military service by means of fraudulent claims of physical disability. The Board was officered by:

DR. E. LIBMAN, Chairman,

DR. A. V. MOSCHCOWITZ, Vice-Chairman,

DR. W. J. HIGHMAN, Secretary,

and was composed of the following doctors:

Medical Division: Dr. Morris Manges, Dr. Alfred Meyer, Dr. Emanuel Libman.

Surgical Division: Dr. Alexis V. Moschcowitz, Dr. Albert A. Berg, Dr. Joseph Wiener.

Skin and Venereal Division: Dr. Hermann Goldenberg, Dr. Fred J. Leviser, Dr. Walter J. Highman.

Neurological Division: Dr. Bernard Sachs, Dr. Isador Abramson, Dr. Israel Strauss.

Ear, Nose and Throat Division: Dr. Emil Mayer, Dr. Julius Auerbach, Dr. Louis Kaempfer, Dr. Louis Jacobs.

Eye Division: Dr. Carl Koller, Dr. Julius Wolff, Dr. Kaufman Schlivek.

Laboratory Division. Dr. F. S. Mandelbaum, Dr. Eugene Bernstein, Dr. David J. Kaliski.

X-Ray Division: Dr. Leopold Jaches.

Dental Division: Dr. Louis Bieber, Dr. Harry Goldberg.

The Board was actively at work from March 25th until November 18th, and held 120 sessions in which approximately 2,800 registrants were examined; of these 565 were sent to the Board during the month of August and received 712 examinations, itemized as follows:

Dental .....	44
Neurological .....	20
Ear .....	42
Nose .....	5
Throat .....	11
Ophthalmological .....	166
Dermatological .....	7
Surgical and genito-urinary.....	171
Medical .....	246

Messrs. Arnstein, Wolfe, Falk, Meyer and Horowitz of your Board continued in the service of the United States Government in various positions; thus far, only Mr. Arnstein has been released and is again giving his attention to the management of the Hospital.

Our colleague, Mr. Frankfort, has during the past year again devoted his entire time to the Hospital and has been instrumental in reorganizing thoroughly the accounting department. His efforts have resulted in considerable savings in various departments.

The opening of the Tonsils and Adenoids Clinic in the new Children's Dispensary building which took place in April was the realization of an ideal which the Hospital set for itself several years ago of establishing this important work on the highest possible plane. The new Clinic occupies the entire second floor of the Children's Dispensary building. The importance and gravity of Tonsils and Adenoids operations are now fully recognized. No child is admitted until a careful physical examination has been made and the child's afternoon temperature has been taken to make sure that there are no harmful complications present. Specialists in anaesthesia assist at the operations which are performed by or under the direction of the Chiefs of the several Nose and Throat Clinics. A graduate nurse remains with the children overnight and a resident surgeon is within call in case of need. Post-operative hemorrhage is always possible in these cases and it is far better for the children to remain in the hospital than to run risks at home, as they formerly did. Our Tonsils and Adenoids Clinic is a link in the chain of agencies which cooperate with the Division of School Medical Inspection of the Department of Health; a large number of children who are admitted for treatment come to the Clinic in consequence of the discovery of abnormal conditions by school medical inspectors. The Clinic, of course, is not open to children of parents who can afford to pay for private treatment.

A little more than a year ago a special class was established as an experiment under the auspices of the Social Service Department in cooperation with the Public School authorities for the observation and treatment of school children suffering from heart disease. A large number of children of this class are in regular attendance at the Public Schools and neglect of their physical condition leads to early disaster. By means of special contributions from Trustees and friends of the Hospital two social workers were secured to aid in the task of protecting these children from injurious physical influences. The activities of these children both in work and play need to be carefully directed and controlled. Physicians especially interested in cardiac diseases volunteered to examine the children from time to time and guide the medical social workers in promoting their welfare. The experimental stage of the Cardiac Clinic has passed and it has been regularly incorporated as a part of the Dispensary and toward the end of the year was installed in quarters especially designed for it in the Children's Clinic. The Social Service Department continues to take an active part in the work.

The stress of war conditions was felt keenly during the year and would have been felt even more keenly but for the generous assistance of patriotic and public-spirited women who volunteered to perform in the Hospital any tasks that might be assigned to them. Volunteer war aids served as helpers to nurses in the wards, as clerical assistants in the Dispensary, and even as elevator runners in the Nurses' Home. These women filled gaps in our organization that could not have been otherwise filled at the time and their presence and zeal was an inspiration to all of us.

There is a bill now pending in the legislature, which, if adopted, will materially affect hospital work throughout the State. I refer to the Health Insurance Bill, under which not less than 40% of the population of the State, including many persons now receiving free treatment, would become paying patients, the cost of their medical care being assumed by district or establishment funds to which employers and employees would be obliged to contribute. Many arguments have been advanced for and against health insurance. If the proposed legislation is to be enacted, as seems likely, hospitals should endeavor to have the law so framed and administered that the medical advice and treatment which workers and employees and their families receive is improved, or at least not affected injuriously. This means that the best features of hospital organization must be preserved.

Dr. Henry Koplik, after having served five years as adjunct attending, and nineteen years as attending physician to the children's department, relinquished his active connection with the Hospital, and has been appointed consulting pediatrician of the institution. During his long period of service in the Hospital, Dr. Koplik gave his best efforts to the care of the children confided to our care, and was instrumental in raising the standard of our children's department to its present high level. He is one of the many medical men whose notable scientific and clinical work have helped make the name of the Hospital familiar to physicians and medical students in many lands.

After 15 years of continuous service on our surgical staff, Dr. Martin W. Ware resigned from active duty. The welfare of his patients was always uppermost in Dr. Ware's mind and our thanks are due to him for the most faithful and conscientious services rendered the Hospital.

The Assistant Director, Dr. H. Smith, resigned to join the United States Army, and Dr. Simon Tannenbaum was appointed in his place.

It is with great sorrow that we record the loss through death of Messrs. Meyer H. Lehman, Edward Oppenheimer, Joseph Fox and Kalman Haas, Honorary Trustees of the institution. Each of them has been connected with the Hospital over 20 years as active and honorary trustee, and each of them has contributed in no small measure to raise the Hospital to its present position. Their memory will ever be cherished by those who had the privilege of working with them.

We further record with deep regret the death of Dr. Moe M. Eisner, of our house staff, and of Dr. John S. Meltzer, one of our district physicians. Dr. Eisner was one of the most promising members of our house staff. In consequence of his untiring devotion to the patients in the Hospital, and his painstaking care of some of his colleagues stricken by the influenza epidemic, he himself fell a victim to the disease. Dr. Meltzer had rendered efficient and faithful service for 5 years and his death was a distinct loss to our institution.

Dr. S. J. Goldfarb was appointed on our X-Ray staff and Dr. A. Jerskey as District Physician.

No new permanent appointments were made during the year on our medical and surgical staffs, but the following temporary assignments were added to those made in 1917:

Dr. A. S. Taylor, temporary adjunct surgeon,
Dr. W. Thalhimer, temporary adjunct surgeon,
Dr. Wm. Frieder, temporary adjunct orthopedist,
Dr. Louis Jacobs, temporary adjunct laryngologist.

The activities of the Ladies' Auxiliary Society, the Social Service Auxiliary and the Mount Sinai Training School for Nurses are fully described in the reports of their respective Presidents which form part of our printed report. Suffice it to say here that, as usual, they have rendered invaluable service to the institution which it is difficult to adequately thank them for.

Mrs. M. H. Moses, after 39 years of continuous service as President of the Ladies' Auxiliary Society, found the burden too heavy, and, much to the regret of her associates and of your Board, insisted on the acceptance of her resignation. During the long period Mrs. Moses headed the Auxiliary, she endeared herself to all those who had the privilege to come in contact with her, and she has set an enviable example of devotion to and efficiency in her work.

We wish to express our grateful appreciation to the City authorities and to our sister institutions for their cooperation, to Messrs. Edward Lauterbach and F. H. Minrath for the legal services rendered to us, and to our medical, nursing and administrative staffs for their loyal and untiring attention to their duties.

The war has ended and demobilization is under way and is making rapid progress. All the disarrangements in the service of the Hospital, brought about by war conditions, ought to disappear gradually, and it is to be hoped that before another six months have elapsed fairly normal conditions will be restored. The unsettled condition of the world has arrested all plans for the improvement and expansion of our institution for almost five years, and we have now before us the huge task of coping with all the accumulated problems of a long period in an institution whose work is continuously changing, owing to new discoveries, new methods and advancing ideas. Let us hope that your Board, with the much needed support of its friends, will show itself able to hold and improve for Mount Sinai Hospital that position in the community which our predecessors and we have been so fortunate as to establish in the past.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE BLUMENTHAL,

President.

---

To the Patrons and Members of the Mount Sinai Training School for Nurses:

The past year has brought many unusual and difficult problems to our Training School as a result of war conditions. Briefly enumerated the principal ones are as follows:

1. A shortage of executives and head nurses of experience.
2. A serious shortage of servants with the result that it has been most difficult to maintain the Nurses' Home at its required standard of cleanliness and order.
3. Standard supplies have been almost prohibitive in price and difficult to secure at a greatly increased figure. This fact applies to cotton and linen goods, blankets, household supplies, etc.
4. The establishment from sheer necessity of a self-service system in our nurses' dining room.
5. The introduction of volunteer nurses' aids to assist in nursing in the hospital and dispensary.
6. A shortening of the three year period of training for women holding a college diploma, permitting them to graduate in two years and three months.
7. A marked shortage of pupil nurses in training especially noticeable during the past few months. This shortage has been brought about by the following causes: as a result of the influenza epidemic, as a result of the signing of the armistice, and because of the shortage of nurses in training schools affiliated with us, making it impossible for them to send to us the customary number of pupils for training.

It has been generally agreed by hospital and training school authorities of the best schools of the country that an eight hour day should be arranged at the earliest possible moment for the pupil nurses in training.

Last summer an extra class of probationers was admitted as a war emergency measure. This fact added greatly to the work of the year as it necessitated class work during the entire summer.

The fact that there was no available graduate nurse group on which to draw for vacation relief also added greatly to our difficulties.

In September a large class of 58 students was admitted. Thirty-six of the group were members of the Vassar Training Camp for College Graduates and twenty-two the regular three-year pupils. On September 26th the influenza epidemic broke out in our Hospital and Training School, and the next two months were spent in a desperate fight with this grim disease, which played greater havoc in the ranks of the nurses than with any other group. Eighty-five nurses contracted influenza, eighteen of whom developed pneumonia. Three of our pupil nurses, one a member of the graduating class, died within one week, and two graduate nurses later succumbed. At one time 42 pupil nurses were off duty ill, many in most serious condition.

It is difficult to convey any idea of the spirit and courage shown through this time by the pupils and graduate assistants of the Training School. Every nurse stayed faithfully at her post without hours of rest or relief, often caring for others uncomplainingly when ill enough to be in bed and having proper care.

Special credit should be given to the group of 58 nurses admitted in the September class. After consulting the Training School authorities, the Superintendent of Nurses called the group together and suggested to them that their class disband, and return home until the epidemic should be over. This suggestion was put to a vote. Every member of the class not only voted to stay and give all possible assistance, but insisted on being allowed to do so.

Each nurse connected with the School did everything in her power to help, and the courage and morale shown by the entire group was a thing never to be forgotten by those who worked with them.

It is quite impossible to express adequately our gratitude and appreciation for the help and cooperation so freely given us during this most difficult and trying period by every one connected with the Hospital. We are especially grateful to our Medical Board and Staff who spent hours daily in the care of our sick nurses.

A very beautiful memorial has been recently established in connection with the Training School by our Vice-President, Mr.

Charles A. Wimpfheimer, to be known as the Jacques D. Wimpfheimer Memorial Fund, the purpose of which is to serve as a Loan Fund for Student Nurses. The small monthly allowance made our nurses does not, of course, go very far toward meeting their expenses, and occasionally some student finds herself seriously embarrassed for the need of a little ready money, either for a vacation period or for some unexpected emergency. Almost all colleges and schools of high standing have a reserve fund of this kind which can be drawn upon, and the student body of the School appreciates greatly the kind thought which prompted such a gift as this Memorial on the part of our Vice-President, dedicated to a dearly loved son whose life was given in his country's service.

A few brief Training School statistics may be of interest. During the past year, we have maintained the following daily averages:

Pupil nurses in uniform.....	154
Probationers .....	20
Affiliated Nurses .....	14

Making a total daily average of..... 188 Students

During the year we have received 1,150 letters of inquiry and application. Of this number 110 were admitted for training as probationers, 78 of whom were accepted as pupils.

Sixty per cent of all pupils admitted during the past year were between the ages of 19 and 21; twenty per cent from 21 to 25 years; fifteen per cent were over this age.

Sixty-five per cent of all pupils admitted had full high school education or better. Ninety per cent of the total number admitted were of American birth, and ten per cent of Canadian birth.

Sixty-five per cent of all pupils admitted have been students and not previously engaged in any other occupation. Twenty per cent have been engaged in various business occupations. Fifteen per cent have been teachers, kindergartners, librarians, or were engaged in various forms of social service work.

Including the students of this year's class our School now numbers 1,092 graduates, of whom over 700 are registered nurses. Over 200 graduates of the School are enrolled Red Cross nurses, about twenty per cent of the group belonging to the Home Defense Corps. During the war more than 100 of our School graduates were engaged in active military service, and at the time the armistice was signed many more were ready for service, awaiting orders.

Our Nurses' Registry numbers 280 members. Nearly 4,000 calls were received during the year. Because of the shortage of graduate nurses, owing to the large number in military service and to the influenza epidemic with its many demands, hundreds of calls have been received this year to which it has been impossible to respond either through our own or any of the other New York City registries.

Our Alumnae Association now numbers nearly 500 members, and the Pension Fund belonging to the Association has recently passed the hundred thousand dollar mark.

There have been a number of improvements in our Nurses' Home during the past year, the most important of which have been the refurnishing of the three lower sleeping floors, and the painting and renovation of our dining rooms, with the addition of considerable new equipment. These improvements have largely been made possible by a few interested and generous members of our Training School Board.

The Hospital Board is refurnishing our Domestic Science Laboratory, giving us a very complete equipment, which is now awaiting installation. They have also furnished and allowed to us temporarily the use of one of the new Science Laboratories for our class work in chemistry and allied subjects.

The greatest needs of the Training School at the present moment are:

1. Increased housing accommodation.
2. An Infirmary for sick nurses.
3. Sewing and linen rooms for the Housekeeping Department.
4. A clothes chute connected in some direct way with the laundry.
5. Sitting rooms on each floor of the Home for the Nurses' use when off duty.

A schedule of our curriculum as arranged in years and subjects is herewith attached.

LADIES' AUXILIARY SOCIETY REPORT.

To the Board of Trustees:

I herewith submit the reports of our Treasurer and Secretary for the year 1918:

Our purchases have been made with the greatest care and forethought, and the expenditures reflect the effort to keep within the limits of our income. In the face of increased costs and with no diminution, but rather an increase, in the needs of the Institution, this was a difficult problem to solve.

Mrs. M. H. Moses, who was our honored President for thirty-eight (38) years, resigned during the current year. We cannot thank her enough for the system and good discipline she has inaugurated, and we trust that the meetings of the Ladies' Auxiliary Society will be graced by her presence for many years to come.

I do not want to close this report without expressing our sincere appreciation of the efficient and valuable services rendered by our Housekeeper, Mrs. Altman.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. JOHN A. COOK,

President.

REPORT OF THE SOCIAL SERVICE DEPARTMENT

To the Board of Trustees:

The past year has been a very difficult one for Hospital Social Service. The doctors and nurses were glad of an opportunity to respond to the needs of the country and freely gave their services to the brave men who offered their lives to carry on the great war. Four nurses of our Social Service Staff sailed with the Mount Sinai Unit and four joined the Red Cross.

Notwithstanding the obstacles with which we had to contend, our work has progressed very satisfactorily. It has been gratifying to note the ever increasing interest of the doctors in Social Service and we have every reason to believe that this spirit of co-operation will be fruitful of even better results in the future.

To the good work of the staff workers have been added the efforts of the members of the Auxiliary and the capable assistance of a large group of volunteers. The doctors of the Dispensary, overburdened with work, have greatly appreciated the assistance given by the clinic secretaries. We have at present twenty-one clinic secretaries, besides a number of other volunteers who do clerical work, make home visits and take children to the country.

Realizing the importance of continuing the work of organized charities, the women of the Auxiliary gave all their available time to Social Service and withheld what sometimes was a great temptation—the opportunity to engage in the many types of war work and thus help directly our soldiers and sailors.

Through the formation of several committees, the members of the Auxiliary are now able to get in close touch with many more of the cases. There are at present three committees for special groups of cases—The Children's Committee, with Mrs. Arthur Lorsch as chairman; The Cardiac Committee, with Mrs. Henry Glazier as chairman, and the Tuberculosis Committee, with Mrs. Myron I. Borg as chairman. A committee on employment, with Mrs. Leopold Bache as chairman, is now very successful in obtaining work for people whom we are trying to assist. It is not an easy task to get work for the handicapped but there is no more constructive manner of aiding a family than by increasing its earning capacity.

A special fund of \$3,449.08 was raised through Dr. Herman Schwarz and the members of the Board. This fund permitted us to make some interesting comparisons on the different methods of improving the condition of undernourished children. A large number of children received extra milk daily and in some cases eggs were also provided. After receiving this extra nourishment for four months the average gain of the children was  $4\frac{1}{2}$  pounds. In cases where there was satisfactory cooperation between the family and the Social Service worker, we found the greatest gains, showing the improvement was due not only to the extra nourishment supplied, but to more intelligent care of the children.

In the Children's Department the children between the ages of six and twelve years suffering from malnutrition were divided into three groups of forty each:—

The first group, the country group, was sent for two weeks to some well known summer home.

The second group, the roof group, went to the Young Women's Hebrew Association roof every day for a period of two months, receiving there a lunch in addition to cocoa in the morning. These children received instruction from an appointed school teacher.

The third group, the food group, were given food in the home, consisting of one quart of milk, two eggs, vegetables and cereals, daily, covering a period of one month. Instruction on relative food values was given to the mothers and children, and one of our nurses went to the homes to teach the mothers how to prepare the food. Three physical examinations were made of each child. A thorough preliminary examination was made. No cases manifestly tubercular or cardiac were accepted. Notes were made as to weight, hemoglobin, etc. A second examination was made directly after the treatment to ascertain the immediate benefit. A third examination was made at the end of four months to ascertain the permanent benefit. The results were as follows:

The country group, at the end of four months, showed an average gain in weight of  $3\frac{9}{10}$  lbs.; the roof group an average gain of  $3\frac{2}{10}$  lbs., and the home food group,  $1\frac{6}{10}$  lbs.

No very definite conclusions can be drawn from an experiment on so small a scale but our results would seem to point to the fact that country care is a desirable form of Social Service, not only because of the gain in weight but also because of the mental stimulus afforded and it is likewise most appreciated by the parents and children. Where country care is unavailable, great aid can be obtained by roof care which means of course any open air recreation centre where supervision is given and a luncheon served. Dr. Murray Bass kindly consented to examine these children and direct the work. Mrs. Arthur Lorsch and Mrs. Howard Cullman devoted a very considerable amount of time during the summer to seeing that the work was properly conducted and they, in conjunction with Dr. Bass, have made a detailed report of this experiment.

Owing to the fact that there were very few summer homes where the children could be sent free of charge, the Social Service Auxiliary, in the most urgent cases, paid to have these children get their summer outings.

Mrs. Louis S. Levy opened a summer home for cardiac girls where thirty of our children, thanks to her kindness and generosity, enjoyed a very happy holiday of several weeks. Everything was done to give the children pleasure and a trained nurse whom we sent with the children was responsible for their physical welfare.

The physicians in charge of the cardiac group fully realize that the successful treatment of cardiac cases depends largely on educating the patient in the laws of health and hygiene and our workers have been most conscientious in doing the close follow-up work that this treatment necessitates. It is very important for the parents to understand that a child suffering from heart trouble must be given special consideration and care. A considerable number of these children show very little sign of ill health between attacks and it is difficult for the parents to realize that the child must be protected and guarded in every way to avoid overstrain and its subsequent results. Friendly talks between the doctor, the nurse, the mother and the child have brought about a better understanding of the care of these cardiac children.

We have, at present, only one cardiac class in the public schools in our district. We earnestly hope that the Department of Education will see the necessity of establishing many of these special classes. There is an imperative need for these classes where the child who is handicapped from the beginning of life may receive special education and training in some branch of work, which will enable him to take his place in the community as a wage earner. Too much emphasis cannot be laid on the importance of having a special physical record card for every child suffering from cardiac disease. If this were done, a child entering school for the first time would be examined, classified and spared much stair-climbing and physical effort. As the child was promoted from class to class each teacher would see by this card that the pupil was a cardiac case. She could then take special care of the child. This would not only protect the sick child but prevent many potential cases from developing.

The adult cardiac evening class has been most successful, particularly since moving into its new quarters. Two rooms have been provided, one for the clinical work and the other for a reading and rest room. The addition of this rest room has had a beneficial effect upon the patients as they are at rest and occupied while awaiting examination and it is an advantage to have the doctor examine his patient under these conditions.

With the generous cooperation of the Union Settlement we have been able to enlarge our corrective exercise classes. We have one group of sixty girls gathered from the various clinics, which meets twice a week under the direction of expert workers. There is also a group of thirty boys meeting twice a week. Particularly constructive work is being done with the girls sent from the Orthopedic Clinic, and the privilege of attending an evening class has been extended to a small group in need of individual attention owing to severe deformities. Girls of working age who are not able to attend the afternoon classes may join this group. The children visit the clinics for examination and records are kept of the general condition, weight and chest measurements of each child.

During the serious epidemic from which we suffered last fall, our workers were most self-sacrificing and gave their best efforts to cope with the difficult conditions which confronted us. I cannot adequately express my appreciation of their unselfishness. One of the workers gave her entire time to nursing the patients in the hospital. Frequently ill themselves, they visited their patients as long as their strength enabled them to do so. All but the most urgent work in the department was eliminated and the workers devoted all their time to the sufferers. Not only did we care for our own cases but conscious of our duty to the community, we also attended one hundred and eighty-six cases sent to us through the Henry Street Settlement. The nurses had the privilege of filling any needs that came to their attention. We sent doctors into the homes and paid for their services when necessary. Ambulances and taxicabs were used and we gave relief in food, clothing and bed linen. The Hospital provided us with medical supplies and filled a large number of prescriptions. Upon recovery we sent patients to convalescent homes and when that was not feasible, we provided extra nourishment until they had regained their health and strength.

There is an increasing demand for the public health nurse. To meet this demand The Mount Sinai Training School for Nurses has, during the past year, given to some of its pupil nurses three months' training in the Social Service Department.

Each pupil nurse is sent to the different departments in turn and is trained under the supervision of the worker in charge of that department. Short comprehensive talks on public health and case work are given by Mrs. Boorum, our head worker. The pupils also attend the regular weekly committee meetings when cases are discussed and plans for relief are worked out. The pupil nurses were taken to the following places of interest:

Childrens' Clearing House,

Randall's Island School for Mental Defectives,

Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children,

Children's Court.

A day was spent in the public schools with the school nurse and another day was spent with the nurse in charge of the Department of Health, Infant Welfare Station. The following course of lectures was given in the Training School to the entire senior class:

1.—“Social Needs and Normal Standards of Families.” William H. Matthews, Director of Family Welfare, Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor.

2.—“Food and Food Value.” Miss A. Gillett, Director Bureau of Diabetics, Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor.

3.—“Social Obligations to Childhood.” Dr. Ira S. Wile, Associate Editor, American Medicine.

4.—“Poverty, Its Causes and Relief.” Dr. Lee K. Frankel, Vice-President, Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

5.—“Medical Inspection of School Children.” Dr. S. Josephine Baker, Director Bureau of Child Hygiene, Department of Health.

6.—“The Children’s Year.” Mary Arnold, Executive Secretary Babies’ Welfare Association.

The amount of time that the pupil nurses have given to Social Service has been entirely inadequate but it has been valuable as an experiment. We trust that in the future some plan will be formed so that the nurses, after having had a wider experience in Social Service will, upon graduation, be qualified to take a responsible position in public health work.

Mrs. Paul Baerwald, as chairman of the Clothes Committee, has been most successful in extending that branch of the work. A separate report of this Committee is presented.

I want to express my appreciation of the splendid work of Mrs. Boorum and the staff which, together with the enthusiastic cooperation of the Board of the Auxiliary, have effected such excellent results in the Social Service Department during the past year.

Dated March 1, 1919.

Respectfully submitted,

RUTH M. COOK,
President of the Social Service Auxiliary.

Extracts from the Constitution on Endowed Beds and Endowments

- A Contribution of $1,500 to the General Fund of the Hospital, if accepted by the Board of Trustees, shall endow a Life Bed. Such a contribution shall entitle the donor thereof, during his or her lifetime, to name a patient from time to time to use and occupy one bed in the general wards of the main Hospital, free of charge.
- A Contribution of $2,500 to the General Fund of the Hospital, if accepted by the Board of Trustees, shall endow a Memorial Bed. Such a contribution shall entitle the donor thereof, during his or her lifetime, to name a patient from time to time to use and occupy one bed in the main Hospital free of charge. Such donor may bequeath that right to a successor appointed by the said donor in his or her last will and testament, or by any other instrument under seal. In the event of such successor being appointed, the rights hereinbefore mentioned shall continue for a period of not over fifty years from the date of such contribution—such period, however, not to end before ten years from the death of the donor.
- A Contribution of $5,000 to the General Fund of the Hospital, if accepted by the Board of Trustees, shall endow a Perpetual Bed, but where, under the provision of any will executed prior to January 1, 1902, the sum of $2,500 or more is bequeathed to the Hospital in payment of any Perpetual Bed, the Board of Trustees may, at their option, accept such sum in payment of such Perpetual Bed. Such contribution shall entitle the donor thereof, during his or her lifetime, to name a patient from time to time to use and occupy one bed in the general wards of the main Hospital, free of charge. Such donor may bequeath that right to a successor appointed by said donor in his or her last will and testament, or by any other instrument under seal.
- When a corporation is the donor, the privilege shall expire at the end of twenty-five years from the date of such contribution.
- Tablets to commemorate the endowment of Life and Memorial Beds shall be placed in the ward selected by the donor, subject to the rules of the Hospital. Tablets for Life Beds shall be maintained during the life of the donor; tablets for Memorial Beds for a period not beyond fifty years from the date of their endowment, such a period, however, not to end before ten years from the death of the donor. The endowment of a Perpetual Bed shall entitle the donor, or his legal representative, to have a tablet placed in the ward selected by him, or by them, or to have the endowment recorded on a tablet provided for that purpose in the corridor of the Hospital; such tablets shall be maintained in perpetuity.
- A donor may change a Life Bed endowed by him or her to a Memorial Bed by making an additional contribution of $1,000, or to a Perpetual Bed by making an additional contribution of $3,500, or may change a Memorial Bed to a Perpetual Bed by making an additional contribution of $2,500.
- No patient shall occupy a Life, Memorial or Perpetual Bed unless he shall comply with the current rules of the Hospital and be a proper subject for treatment according to its regulations.
- An endowment for the establishing of any special fund may be accepted by a resolution of the Board of Trustees. Such fund may be created either for a special purpose, in which event the income therefrom shall be devoted to such purpose only, or under the name of one or more persons, in which event the income therefrom shall be devoted to the general purposes of the Hospital. Such endowment funds shall be kept by the Treasurer as special accounts. Contributions to existing funds may be made at any time, but no funds shall be created with an initial endowment of less than Ten Thousand Dollars.

SIXTY-SEVENTH
HOSPITAL

OF THE
CITY OF NEW YORK

HISTORICAL NOTE

The Mount Sinai Hospital was organized and incorporated in 1852, for "benevolent, charitable and scientific purposes." The Hospital's first building was a small private dwelling in 28th Street, between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, which accommodated 28 patients. The institution was originally named the Jews' Hospital of the City of New York; the title was changed to the Mount Sinai Hospital in 1886.

In 1871 the Hospital completed and occupied, at Lexington Avenue, 66th and 67th Streets, a new building having a capacity of 200 beds. At this time the Dispensary or Out-patient department was inaugurated.

The Mount Sinai Training School for Nurses, in affiliation with the Hospital, was incorporated March, 1881.

A district medical and nursing service was inaugurated in 1886.

In 1893, a room in the hospital building was assigned to the Pathological Department and equipped as a laboratory.

The cornerstone of the Hospital buildings occupying the block bounded by Fifth and Madison Avenues, 100th and 101st Streets, was laid May 22d, 1901, and the buildings were completed and occupied March 15th, 1904.

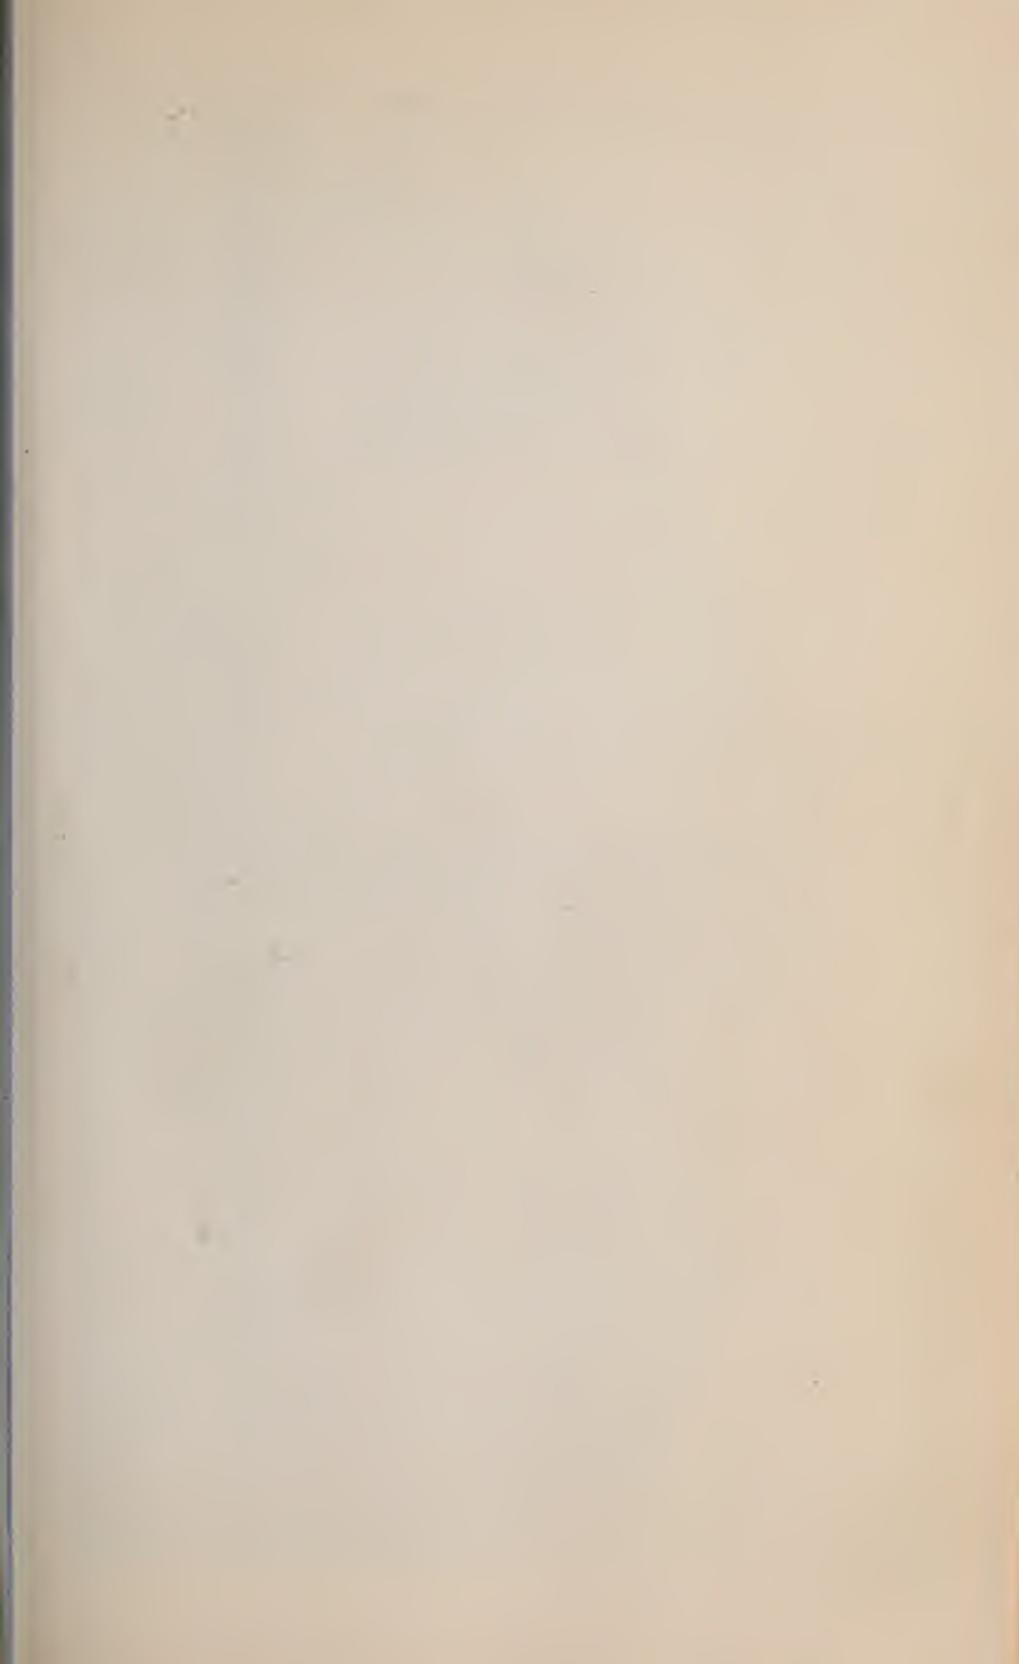

The work of the Social Service Department was begun in 1907.

In 1910 the Dispensary was altered from a three-story to a five-story building, and the Nurses' Home from a six-story to an eight-story building. At the same time the present Isolation Wards were erected.

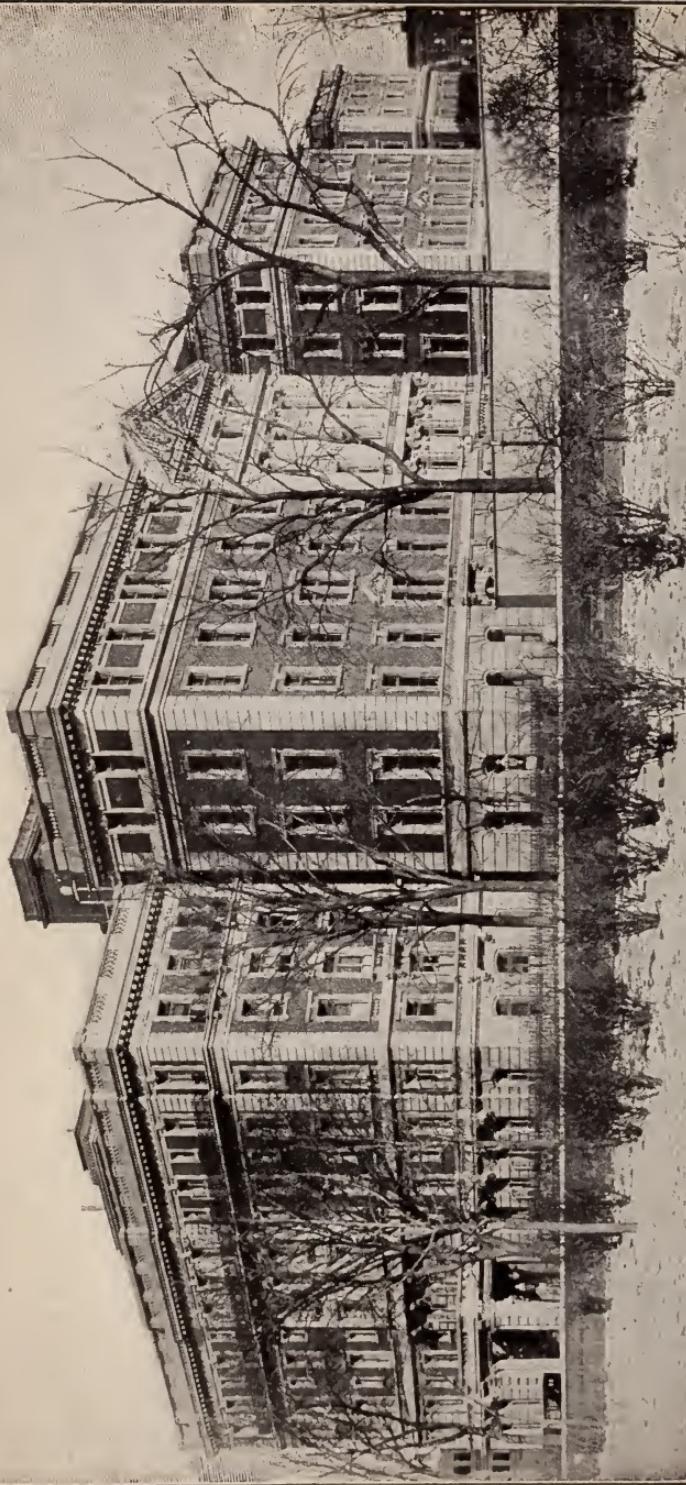

In 1912, Roof Wards for out-door treatment were erected on the Medical and Surgical Pavilions.

The Hospital now has accommodations for 511 patients.

In the last annual report, it was intimated that the most important task which confronted us in 1919, was to bring the Hospital back to its normal organization, which we had been forced to modify in many important particulars, to meet war needs. The organization of Base Hospital No. 3 (the Mount Sinai Hospital Unit) for service in France, together with the individual enlistment of nearly fourscore of our Hospital and Dispensary men in the Medical Department of the Army, left us with a greatly depleted staff. One by one the absentees have returned. Although some of the medical officers of Base Hospital No. 3 were released from service very shortly after the armistice, it was not until March 14th, 1919, that the Hospital organization itself embarked at Bassens. The Unit landed at Newport News on March 25th, and a few days later the entire personnel was assembled at Camp Upton and honorably discharged from the service of the United States. On March 12th, 1919, Surgeon-General Ireland addressed a commendatory letter to the Board of Trustees, a copy of which was sent to all our members and which will be reprinted in our report.

To commemorate the patriotic services of the members of Base Hospital No. 3 as well as the service given to the country during the world war by other Mount Sinai physicians and nurses, the Trustees have caused a bronze tablet to be erected in the Hospital, which, if it has not already attracted your attention, I would commend to your inspection at the conclusion of this meeting. This tablet was unveiled with simple ceremonies on February 6th, and on that occasion a book containing the history of the Unit was presented to each member of the Unit, and the members of the Unit will also receive a bronze medal executed by Mr. Weiman, commemorating their work and a reproduction of which will be incorporated in the annual report. A tablet similar to the one placed in the Hospital has been placed in the Nurses' Home, in recognition of the services of the nurses. For the artistic execution of the tablet, the medals and the book, we are in a great measure indebted to the painstaking efforts of Mr. Speyer and his committee.

The volume of work done in 1919 both in the Hospital and Dispensary was below normal. The diminution in dispensary work was not peculiar to Mount Sinai; a recent report, compiled for the State Board of Charities for the year ending June 30, 1919, shows that in the dispensaries of New York the treatments given were half a million fewer than during preceding years. This is the first time that there has been a sharp falling off in the amount of dispensary work in the City of New York; the economic and social conditions to which this reduced volume of treatment has been generally attributed are rapidly passing away, and the work of the dispensaries of the city, our own included, is rapidly regaining its earlier volume.

In the Hospital itself, the diminution of work was not due to any waning demand for care, but was caused by the fact that one ward after another was closed for necessary renovation. The process of renovation, so far as the wards are concerned, will come to an end in a few months, when the Hospital will resume its normal activities.

There is no visible limit to the work that Mount Sinai would be called upon to do, if its facilities permitted. Applications in excess of capacity are the rule in all departments. It is probably no exaggeration to say that a very large proportion of the Jewish population of the city, numbering approximately one million, look first to Mount Sinai when in need of hospital care; in addition to this, there is a considerable demand for service from other elements of the population. For the Jewish population of New York alone, all social classes included, there is need of between four and five thousand hospital beds for acute cases; it is obvious, therefore, that with less than five hundred beds at its disposal, Mount Sinai cannot satisfy more than a fraction of the inevitable demand.

The plans for our new buildings which are to occupy all the available space on our grounds bounded by 99th and 101st Streets, are completed, and our intention announced last year, to begin active building operations during the coming Spring, remains unchanged. A contract for handling the entire work has been entered into with the Cauldwell Wingate Company, on terms which are considered very favorable to the Hospital. Within two years from this time, we should have available a new Private Pavilion containing one hundred and thirty patients' rooms, to take the place of the present pavilion, in which there are fifty-seven rooms, and a new Children's Building, which will accommodate one hundred children, in place of the present building, which has a capacity of seventy-two. Following the erection of these buildings, the old private pavilion will be converted into additional wards and the present children's building into semi-private wards.

It is, of course, evident that all previous estimates of building costs must be reconsidered in the light of changed conditions; in place of the previously estimated outlay of $2,000,000—we now face a probable requirement of $3,250,000.

A question which the Board was called upon to decide was—whether Mount Sinai should go before the community with an independent appeal for funds to cover its additional needs, or whether, in view of the fact that several of our sister institutions were also in need of building funds, a campaign should be inaugurated for the benefit of all. Your Board felt confident that it could, single handed, carry a campaign to a successful conclusion, but having in mind the interest of all parties and the convenience of the public, concluded to support the project of a joint building fund campaign. Under the auspices of the Federation a Campaign Committee undertook to obtain $10,000,000 for building purposes, and with the able leadership of Colonel H. A. Guinzburg, actually raised thus far an amount close to seven million dollars, of which sum your Trustees (including Mr. Adolph Lewisohn's subscription) contributed close to seven hundred thousand dollars. We are confident that the committee in charge will allot to Mount Sinai its fair proportion of the common fund, and we trust that the amount allotted will be such as to make unnecessary any undue encroachment on our trust funds, which amount to about three hundred thousand dollars less than the amount that has been received by the Hospital for the endowment of wards and beds. In this connection it must be borne in mind that all moneys received as unrestricted legacies and bequests since the establishment of Mount Sinai Hospital have been used either for building purposes or to cover current account deficits.

PRESENTED TO
GEORGE BLUMENTHAL
BY HIS FELLOW TRUSTEES IN RECOGNITION OF HIS TWENTY-FIVE YEARS OF DEVOTED SERVICE TO MOUNT SINAI HOSPITAL
1892-1917

Plaque presented to Mr. George Blumenthal, Pres'dent, upon the completion of twenty-five years of service to the Hospital

You are aware that our new private pavilion is to be a memorial to the late Mayer and Barbara Guggenheim, dedicated by their sons. The contribution of the Messrs. Guggenheim to pay for the cost of this building in excess of the value to the Hospital of the present private pavilion (the original Guggenheim memorial) was fixed at three hundred and fifty-nine thousand dollars. Wishing to defray the entire cost of the new pavilion, including equipment, the Messrs. Guggenheim, in view of the increased cost of labor and material, have generously offered to add another two hundred and fifty thousand dollars to their gift, so that their total contribution for this purpose will be six hundred and nine thousand dollars, plus the value of the present private pavilion, or approximately one million dollars. No praise of mine could add anything to this simple but eloquent statement of the facts.

During the lifetime of Mr. Henry L. Einstein, negotiations had taken place between him and the Hospital relating to the dedication of the new Children's Pavilion. Mr. Einstein made provision in his will for an additional contribution to the Hospital of $75,000, with a stipulation that his executors might increase this amount by $50,000, and an agreement has been entered into between the executors and the Hospital under which the Hospital will receive $125,000, in consideration of which the new Children's Pavilion is to be dedicated to the memory of Lewis Einstein and Millie Einstein Falk, the present Children's building reverting to the Hospital.

To round out the group of Hospital buildings, the Trustees were urged to provide an Auditorium Building of generous size, where various gatherings might be held, including our annual meetings, the commencements of the Training School, meetings of the clinical society of the Hospital, addresses by distinguished medical visitors, lectures by members of the staff to residents and to undergraduate and graduate medical students, talks to nurses, and to Social Service workers. In addition, owing to our advantageous location, it was believed that a Hospital Auditorium might serve a useful purpose in connection with Federation meetings and conferences, section meetings of the clinical congresses which are held in New York from time to time, meetings of various organizations that are concerned with hospital development and progress, and, possibly lectures on health and hygiene in co-operation with the Board of Education, the Department of Health, Columbia and New York Universities, and various medical associations, including societies for the prevention of tuberculosis, the control of cancer, and the promotion of health. Your Board accepted the offer of my wife and myself to contribute $150,000 for such a building.

During the past year we proceeded slowly with the opening of the new laboratory and dormitory buildings. So far as the dormitory building is concerned, the need for its use was not pressing for two reasons: because we continued to experience difficulty in obtaining domestic help, and because owing to the postponement of our general building program it was not absolutely necessary to vacate the old dormitory building. The new dormitory has, however, been equipped and is now partly occupied.

In the complicated equipment of the new laboratory building, it was necessary to overcome difficulties in obtaining needed apparatus, but the equipment is now happily completed and the laboratory has begun to function in its new home. The laboratory is not as large as might be desired by those who would like to see its research work indefinitely expanded. There is, however, space available for some research work, and for the routine work of a general hospital in pathology, bacteriology, chemistry, and serology, we congratulate ourselves on having one of the best equipped laboratories in the country.

In last year's report, I referred to the opening of a special clinic for the operative treatment and overnight care of Tonsil and Adenoid cases, in the new children's dispensary. The clinic is now doing a large and constantly growing work under ideal conditions. During the last year the number of cases operated upon this department was 1,192.

Early in the year a new Department of Arseno-therapy was organized in the dispensary and placed under the direction of Dr. Herman Goldenberg. Prior to the establishment of this department, patients in need of "salvarsan" treatment were admitted to the Hospital; but with the gradual improvement in the technique of administration of the drug, it has been possible to carry out the treatment in most cases without using Hospital beds for the purpose. The follow-up work of the department is in charge of trained social service workers, whose function it is to see that all persons who come into contact at home with the patients registered for treatment, visit the dispensary for examination, and that treatment once begun is carried to a conclusion. The department, through its social workers and investigators, carefully follows up every case, and no case is dropped until every effort has been exhausted to have treatment continued until a cure is accomplished.

The Social Service Department has been very helpful, first in establishing and then in aiding the work in this clinic. Without the able and devoted service of the ladies of this auxiliary, under the leadership of its President, Mrs. Cook, and the co-operation of the volunteer workers, neither this department nor many other activities in our Hospital could have reached their present state of efficiency. The report of the Social Service Auxiliary, embodied in our report, will give a full account of their activities and personnel.

Several years have elapsed since the Hospital, through the beneficence of the late Mrs. Babette Lehman, came into possession of a fund of $100,000, the income of which was to be used "for advancement of preventive medicine." Preventive medical work had long been a part of the Hospital's activities; many of the investigations that are carried on in the laboratory have as their object the discovery of means for the prevention of disease, and a considerable part of the activities of our Social Service Department has to do with disease prevention. All of this work, however, has been regarded as incidental to the major work of the Hospital, which concerns itself with treatment and cure rather than with prevention. It was not until June, 1919, that the Hospital found itself in a position to take the first definite steps for the creation of a department whose sole object is the prevention of disease. At that time a Children's Health Class was inaugurated, under the direction of Dr. Ira S. Wile, with headquarters in the new children's dispensary building. After a half year of operation, the Health Class may be declared a distinct success. The attention of the class is directed chiefly to the periodic examination of children between infancy and school age. This is a period during which the health of the poorer children is commonly neglected and when physical mismanagement may readily implant the seeds of disease, against which the Department of Health and other agencies subsequently struggle in vain. It is our aim, by bringing children into the Health Class, to keep them out of the clinical departments of the dispensary, and we have reason to believe that the class is fulfilling its function. Through the work of the Health Class, minor physical defects are noted at a time when they can be readily corrected; such conditions as underweight, etc., are dealt with chiefly by educational means, and the statistical charts of the department show convincingly the success of the department in increasing the vitality of the children. The class aims to and actually succeeds in relieving conditions of malnutrition through dietary modifications; that is, by educational methods rather than by means of medical relief, by the use of artificial food preparations, or by giving away food.

Our annual expenses, in reaching a total of $747,833.37, have exceeded the highest previous record by about $95,000; receipts from all sources amounted to $738,264.28, leaving a deficit of $9,569.09, which we were obliged to make up from our permanent fund.

Our share in the distribution of the United Hospital Fund was $13,876.16, a sum larger than any heretofore received from this source, but only a fraction of the amount we expect to receive in the current year through the same channel. You are all familiar with the campaign the United Hospital Fund has carried on during the last months of 1919. To assist in a substantial manner all the private hospitals of New York, the United Hospital Fund set out with the ambitious program of raising of $1,000,000.00, and although many obstacles were encountered, approximately this amount was secured. The hospitals of our city not only owe a debt of gratitude to the managers of the United Hospital Fund, particularly to its President, Mr. Robert Olyphant, and the chairman of its Executive Committee, Mr. H. I. Fisher, and their co-workers who did yeomen work to accomplish such a wonderful result, but they and their friends are under obligations to the Fund to intensify their support of this movement in coming years, both by contributions and by assisting in the work of collection.

From the Federation we received in 1919, $239,495.50, a substantially larger amount than we ever collected from membership dues before Federation came into existence. We urge all our friends to contribute to Federation to the fullest extent of their ability, for only with such whole hearted support will it be able to meet the great demands that are made upon it. Federation being mainly a collecting and distributing agency, cannot do its duty towards the affiliated societies if the friends of each and every society and institution do not do their duty toward Federation. We extend our sincere thanks to President Felix M. Warburg and his fellow managers of Federation, for their unselfish and devoted service to the community.

Never since the beginning of its existence has the Hospital been the recipient of so many evidences of good will in the form of endowment funds, gifts for the endowment of beds, and legacies and bequests, as in the past year.

Our records show: Endowments

19 Perpetual beds
1 Memorial bed,
1 Life bed, and legacies amounting to $139,316.98, the most important of which were those of

Mrs. Olivia Sage.....	$95,000.00
Mr. Benjamin Blumenthal.....	15,000.00
Mr. Kalman Haas .....	10,000.00

Under the will of Mr. Joseph Frank, who died last October, the Home for Aged and Infirm Hebrews and Mount Sinai Hospital were made residuary legatees, and the share of each institution should be considerably in excess of $350,000.00.

Such generosity is a source of great satisfaction to the Trustees, and a stimulus to ever greater efforts, as we take it to be, at least in part, an endorsement of the Hospital's work. More and more it is coming to be recognized that an institution like ours should have a large endowment fund, in order that it may not be entirely dependent for its support on fluctuating receipts from miscellaneous sources.

Students of hospital policy are not of one mind with regard to the extent to which research work should be carried on by hospitals. The rich clinical material which one finds in a general hospital affords splendid opportunities for laboratory research in connection with clinical cases, and it seems plain that it is the function of every important general hospital, to contribute, through research work, its share to the advancement of medical science. However, there are those who contend that money which is contributed to the hospital for the relief of sickness and suffering must be directly and not indirectly applied to that end; and those who hold this view are inclined to find fault when funds primarily intended for the care of the sick are used for the indirect relief of sickness through scientific research. The two opposing views are very happily reconciled when research work is carried on in a hospital, but is supported by funds specially designated for the purpose and not taken from the hospital's general funds. This course is the one which Mount Sinai endeavors to pursue. A special fund has recently been established for scientific research, and the work of research will be permitted to expand only in so far as money is contributed for this special purpose. The sums thus far donated to this fund total $7,000.00.

There has been a steady improvement in the character of our dispensary service, judged by several standards. The preliminary training of the men who have sought dispensary appointments has undergone a notable change for the better during the last few years. The men who now apply for dispensary appointments are almost invariably men of sound, even superior hospital training. The attendance of the large volunteer dispensary staff, numbering approximately 200 medical men, has improved in regularity, due apparently in part to the steady growth of a sense of responsibility, but in part no doubt to the salutary influence which is exercised by Mr. Maurice Frankfort, the tireless Chairman of our Dispensary Committee.

The high esteem in which Mount Sinai training is held by medical students was never more emphatically shown than during the past two months, when letters from students seeking Mount Sinai appointments have been received, not only from all the medical schools in New York, but from Boston, New Haven, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Atlanta. It is particularly gratifying for the Hospital to receive such a letter as one which came recently from a medical student in a Western medical center, the writer of which declared that in his school Mount Sinai was considered to be "the best graduate training school in the country."

Reference will be made in the report of the President of the Mount Sinai Training School for Nurses to the experimental inauguration in October of an eight-hour day for pupil nurses. The justification of this innovation, which is, of course, an expensive one, may be found in the fact that the work of pupil nurses is most arduous. It has never been the policy of Mount Sinai to exploit the pupil nurse; our aim has been to conduct the training school as an educational institution, with a full sense of our responsibility toward pupil nurses and the public. The shorter working day for the pupil nurses has already brought about a distinct improvement in the morale of the school and in the physical condition of the pupils, and it is our hope that the standard tentatively adopted will become the permanent standard of the school.

Within the means at our disposal we have endeavored to pursue a liberal policy toward the employees of the Hospital; recognizing the increased cost of living, the Hospital during the past year has advanced the average wages of all non-professional employees, about 35%, or during a period of three years, over 60%.

During the winter of 1918-1919, the rules of the Hospital, which had undergone no general revision since 1909, were systematically re-studied, and after being completely rewritten, were enacted in their new form at the Board meeting held on February 23rd. Members of the Hospital who are interested in studying our present system of administration, which is the out-growth of more than sixty years of experience in hospital management, are invited to apply for copies of our rules and regulations.

Important changes have taken place in the directorate of our Ladies' Auxiliary. Much to our regret, Mrs. Julius Beer, and Mrs. John A. Cook, who in conjunction with Mrs. M. H. Moses, whose recent demises we record with deep sorrow, had for so many years successfully officered this Branch of our institution, withdrew from the active management in which they had rendered such excellent service. We welcome the new officers, viz.: Mrs. C. J. Housman, President; Mrs. Emil Frenkel, 1st Vice-President; Mrs. William Goodman, 2nd Vice-President; and Mrs. Oscar Rose, Treasurer; and trust that they may find the work congenial, and that the Auxiliary may continue to prosper under their guidance, as it has of old.

The two most essential factors in the conduct of a Hospital are—patients and doctors. We have become so accustomed to accept as a matter of course, the invaluable work of our physicians and surgeons that although we recognize the extent of their sacrifices, we habitually accept their great gifts without much comment or commendation. It is after all, the physicians who comprise the backbone of the Hospital; it is their work that counts most of all; it is upon them that our patients depend for relief; and it is upon them that the Hospital chiefly relies for the maintenance of its reputation in the community. We, therefore, wish to make this record of our appreciation of the untiring co-operation of the members of our medical and surgical staffs in the various departments of the Hospital and of the Dispensary.

Dr. Alfred Meyer entered our Hospital as interne in 1877 and he has occupied the position of attending physician since 1882. In June Dr. Meyer reached the age at which, under our rules, he was automatically transferred to the consulting staff. During more than forty years of active service, Dr. Meyer established a remarkable record of devotion to the thousands of patients who came under his care and who benefitted from his knowledge and proficiency; through his genial ways, his unfailing courtesy for and consideration of others Dr. Meyer has won the love and admiration of all those who had the privilege of coming in contact with him, particularly of his colleagues, the Trustees, the various House Staffs, and the Nurses. Dr. Meyer's daily visits to the Hospital are greatly missed, but we have the satisfaction of knowing that his interest in the institution continues undiminished, and that we can count on his co-operation as consultant whenever his wise counsel is needed.

Dr. D. H. Davison was appointed admitting physician in 1883. He held this position until 1901, when he became adjunct

The central court formed by the cloisters of the monastery. In the distance are seen the bell and watch towers of the monastery which surmounted the large chapel, used by the hospital as a huge mess-hall for convalescent patients.

Bird's-eye view of half of the hospital campus as seen from the bell tower of the monastery, showing the cloisters at one corner of the central court and, beyond this, six of the modern ward buildings. Each ward building had its own walled court adjoining and opening into the cloisters. This made it possible to isolate individual buildings or groups of buildings so as to utilize them for infectious diseases. At times of great activity at the front, some of the buildings housed 270 patients and even the cloisters and corridors of the monastery were filled with the sick and wounded.

This old monastery known as the Château de Vauclaire formed the nucleus of a large group of old and modern buildings, which were occupied by the Mount Sinai Unit as Base Hospital No. 3. The hospital at the height of its development had a maximum crisis capacity of almost 3,000 beds.

physician, and he was promoted to the rank of associate physician in 1911. After thirty-six years of faithful and meritorious service, Dr. Davison asked to be relieved from his duties, and we complied with his request with feelings of regret, gratitude and appreciation.

Dr. I. Leviseur, Associate Dermatologist, withdrew from our staff after 16 years of continuous and devoted service; we are indebted to him for conscientious and successful work in the various positions that he filled.

We wish to tender appreciative thanks to Dr. Alfred A. Taylor, temporary associate surgeon, who very kindly consented to serve in that capacity during the absence of Dr. Walter M. Brickner with the Unit.

Owing to the fact that the details of the contemplated medical organization had not been finally adopted, temporary appointments only were made in the medical and surgical staffs, viz.:

Dr. Henry Heiman, Attending Pediatrician,
Dr. Harold Neuhof, Associate Surgeon,
Dr. Fred Wise, Adjunct Dermatologist,
Dr. Harry Wessler, Adjunct Physician,
Dr. Howard E. Lindeman, Adjunct Gynæcologist,
Dr. Murray H. Bass, Assistant Pediatrician,
Dr. Louis Jacobs, Assistant Laryngologist,
Dr. H. S. Goldberg was appointed Acting Dentist.

On July 11th, death took away our friend Dr. Abraham Jacobi, who up to a few months before his demise, had been President of our Medical Board, and whose connection with our institution, dated back almost to its inception and embraced a period of 59 years. In Dr. Jacobi our country lost one of its best citizens—one of its greatest leaders in clinical medicine, and in civic movements. Mount Sinai mourns in him one of its master builders, and as faithful and devoted a physician as any Hospital was ever fortunate enough to have on its staff. Two permanent memorials to Dr. Jacobi were established in the Hospital during his lifetime. The first is a medical library, which is maintained by a permanent fund known as the Dr. Abraham Jacobi Library Fund, established in 1910 by the voluntary contributions of members of the medical staff of the Hospital; the second, a life-like bronze bust has been a conspicuous feature of the entrance hall of the Hospital since it was unveiled at the time of the celebration of Dr. Jacobi's eightieth birthday.

After having been a member of the Board of Trustees for seven years, Mr. Louis I. Horowitz decided, much to our regret, to withdraw therefrom. We have lost in Mr. Horowitz an ardent worker who gave to the institution unstintingly of his time, his thought, and on many occasions substantial financial aid. Although Mr. Horowitz's active connection with the Hospital has ceased, we have every reason to believe that his interest in the institution remains unchanged.

Mr. Jack W. Schiffer was elected a Trustee to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Horowitz's retirement.

On April 16th, our Honorary Trustee, Mr. Max Nathan, celebrated his 90th birthday, and his colleagues presented to him on that occasion an illuminated address, setting forth the love and admiration which they have for one of the best friends our institution has ever had. May we be granted the privilege and the pleasure of having Mr. Nathan with us for many more years.

Finding that he could not spare the time the office required, Mr. Henry L. Calman resigned as 2nd Vice-President, and Mr. S. Herbert Wolfe was elected in his place.

In June, 1918, Dr. Herman Smith, who resigned as Assistant Director to enter the Medical Department of the Army, returned to the Hospital, replacing Dr. Simon Tannebaum, who then became Superintendent of the Jewish Hospital in Philadelphia. Dr. Smith has since accepted the position of Superintendent of the Michael Reese Hospital, Chicago, and will be replaced by Dr. Leopold Brahdy, a former Mount Sinai House Surgeon, who served during the War in the Medical Department of the Navy.

During the year, the Hospital acquired the services of Mr. A. J. Shoneke as Chief Clerk and Auditor.

It is impossible to successfully manage an institution like ours, without the hearty co-operation of all Department Heads and their subordinates, and we were fortunate indeed, to have this support to the fullest extent. For this we owe our thanks to our indefatigable director, Dr. S. S. Goldwater, to the Superintendent of the Training School, Miss Greener, and to all members of the administrative and nursing staff.

We wish to record our appreciation to the city authorities and to our sister institutions for their thoughtful and effective helpfulness, and to sincerely thank Mr. Lauterbach and Mr. Minrath for the many services graciously rendered during the past year.

While conditions are by no means normal yet, and while we are beset with many grave problems, most of which are traceable to War situations, we look with the utmost assurance into the future, confident that all the difficulties of readjustment will be overcome, and that Mount Sinai will steadily advance towards its goal, and will remain a credit to the community which so generously makes its existence possible.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE BLUMENTHAL,
President.

WAR DEPARTMENT
OFFICE OF THE SURGEON GENERAL
WASHINGTON

March 12, 1919

Board of Trustees,
Mount Sinai Hospital,
New York City.

Gentlemen: (Thru the American Red Cross, National Headquarters, Washington, D.C.)

Red Cross Base Hospital No. 3, accredited to the Mount Sinai Hospital, having been returned to this country for demobilization, I take this opportunity to express my appreciation of the invaluable services rendered the Nation by this splendid organization.

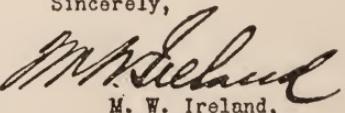

It will always be remembered that the first organizations of the American Army to be sent overseas were six Red Cross base hospitals, and at the time of the great Allied offensive, beginning July 18, 1918, thirty nine of the forty five base hospitals on duty in France and England were Red Cross hospitals.

Their readiness for service and the patriotic devotion to duty, as well as the professional excellence of the personnel of these organizations, have made them the chief reliance of the Medical Service of the forces in France, while those on duty with the British have rendered equally valuable and appreciated aid to the British Army.

It is earnestly recommended that effective measures be taken by you to keep the organization of your unit intact and that every effort be made to imbue its future personnel with the fine esprit to be expected in the possessors of the glorious heritage of splendid achievement handed down from the Great War by the original personnel of Base Hospital No. 3.

In this connection I desire to invite your attention to the excellent work done by Major Howard Lilienthal, M.C., as Director of Base Hospital No. 3, and ask that you convey to him my sincere appreciation of the value of the service he gave to our country in its time of need.

Sincerely,

M. W. Ireland,
Surgeon General, U.S. Army.

REPORT ON THE SCIENTIFIC WORK OF THE MEDICAL STAFF

---

Submitted by a Committee of the Medical Board

The purpose of this report is to make brief reference to some of the problems which have been studied by various members of the medical staff during the past two years. Some of these studies were interrupted by war service. Mention is made of the problems, and not of the men, nor of the divisions responsible for these studies. A single study may necessitate the intimate and fruitful co-operation of several divisions of the hospital. Thus, the subject of lung abscess was studied by a member of the X-Ray Department in association with members of the Medical, Surgical, Pediatric and Laboratory Staffs. Reprints of articles published by members of the Staff may be consulted in the Abraham Jacobi Library of the Hospital.

Considerable attention has been given to the subject of infection of the lungs and pleura, especially when accompanied by pus formation—namely, abscess of the lung and empyema of the pleura. Interest in this subject was aroused several years ago by a member of the Staff who pointed out the occurrence, in patients admitted to the Hospital, of abscess of the lungs due to aspiration from the throat after the removal of tonsils, owing to the fact that it had been difficult to keep the throat clear during general anesthesia. This danger is now practically overcome, for it is generally realized that the employment of a suction apparatus minimizes the risk. The diagnosis and treatment of lung abscess have been viewed from every possible angle and particular attention has been given to the question of direct irrigation of lung abscess through the bronchoscope. Distinct advances have been made in the surgery of the chest with special reference to the diseases mentioned above. The hospital has profited by the presence of one of its Staff on the Empyema Commission, appointed by the government during the war, and by the designation of another member of the Staff to devote himself to thoracic surgery in France. New operations and instruments have been devised and the results of the operative procedures are far better than they were formerly. Lobectomy (removal of a portion of the lung) has been done successfully in a number of instances.

The roentgenology of Hodgkin's Disease, as it affects the chest, has been studied and new information of diagnostic value has been obtained. A hitherto unknown disease, "Hereditary Hemoptysis" has been described. It was found that the coughing up of blood could occur as a family disease, and in the particular family studied this bleeding occurred in at least three generations and never was fatal.

Three of the internes have perfected a method of great value to determine the exact grouping of the infective agents in cases of pneumonia. Formerly this work was done with the sputum of the patient and much time was lost when the sputum could not be obtained. In the new method, blood, always obtainable, is employed, and the diagnosis as to the infective agent is practically always established in less than eight hours.

Diseases of the heart have been carefully investigated. Of particular importance are studies dealing with diseases of the blood vessels of the heart with special reference to the condition known as angina pectoris, and extensive clinical studies have been made and publicly presented. The fundamental observations of this condition made by electrocardiographic methods have been continued and experimental studies are being added. The opinion expressed several years ago that the results of these investigations are of value in determining the outlook in some cases of angina pectoris has been strengthened, and these observations have been confirmed in other clinics.

The studies on infections of the valves of the heart and on the results of such infections on pre-existing valvular diseases have been continued and some of the results have been published. Irregularities and nervous disturbances of the heart are being investigated, as is also the interesting subject of vertigo of cardiac origin.

As for abdominal diseases, those of the stomach, of the rectum, of the liver and spleen have engaged most attention. At the present time practical importance may be attributed to the studies regarding hypersecretion in the stomach, and the influence of food and drugs on this secretion. The results of operations for ulcer of the stomach and duodenum are being studied critically as well as the question of the best operative procedure for the cure of these conditions.

Earlier researches as to the amount of fatty substances (cholesterin) in the blood in cases of diseases of the liver have been extended and the data thus obtained have been kept in mind in the further study of cases operated upon for gall-stones. Many facts have been collected that have proved useful in the conduct of such cases. Among surgical procedures, it should be mentioned that a new operation has been devised in cases of carcinoma of the lower bowel.

The genito-urinary tract has come in for much inquiry. Studies have been made on nephritis and on states associated with increased blood pressure. Some of these studies have had a practical outcome. Certain cases of nephritis associated with dropsy and rebellious to all known methods of treatment improved readily on high protein feeding.

The end results of operations performed for the cure of tumors of the kidneys are being carefully tabulated, as well as the effect of the application of the high frequency current in treatment of tumors of the bladder. Extensive studies on inflammation of the bladder have been published. A new method for the cure of stricture of the urethra has been introduced as well as a new operative procedure for contraction of the neck of the bladder.

The value of radium and of the X-Ray in treatment of fibroid tumors of the uterus is being actively studied. Investigations are also being made on the subject of so-called essential uterine hemorrhage.

Former studies on general infections have been resumed and it is hoped that extensive reports will be published in the near future. A useful modification of the method of cultivating the influenza bacillus has been devised. New arsenical compounds are being tried in cases of syphilis, also a new iodine preparation in cases of bacterial infection. The complications of infections of the ear have been the subject of several studies.

The citrate method of blood transfusion has been tried out on a large scale and, because of its simplicity, has been adopted in the majority of cases requiring this method of treatment. It is gratifying to note that the two most generally accepted methods of blood transfusion were developed in this Hospital. Studies on enlargement of the spleen and leukemia are in active progress and several papers have been published. A new method for counting the third element of the blood (blood platelets) has been introduced and the significance of these platelets has been investigated. New methods devised for studying the chemical composition of the blood have also made such examinations possible when but small amounts of blood were available.

Among the diseases of the nervous system the diagnosis and operative treatment of tumors of the spinal cord have been advanced considerably. Further investigations concerning the relative value of the intravenous and intraspinous methods of treating syphilis of the nervous system have corroborated the opinion previously published that preference should be given to the intravenous method, and this opinion has been endorsed by a number of other investigators. Special interest attaches at this time to the study of the disease known as epidemic or lethargic encephalitis, and commonly, though erroneously, called "sleeping sickness" (the cause of true "sleeping sickness" has long been known). The early studies on this epidemic disease were made by a member of the Associate Staff and two internes. They proved that the mucous membrane of the throat and the secretions in the throat of patients afflicted with this disease contain the virus by means of which the disease can be reproduced in monkeys and rabbits. The experimental studies have been continued and the investigations have revealed the presence, in the mucous membrane of the throat and in the nervous system of fatal cases in human beings and infected animals, of a germ which can be cultured. This germ belongs to the class of filterable organisms, and upon inoculation of cultures into animals the disease is reproduced. This germ appears to have a direct relationship to the disease. Studies are now being made concerning the relationship of this disease to influenza.

In conclusion, it may be noted that a number of members of the Staff have contributed sections to important hand books and text books now being issued and also that a series of roentgenograms have been prepared for the X-Ray library of the Army Medical Museum in Washington.

To the Patrons and Members:

Hospitals and training schools throughout the country have been struggling with almost unheard of difficulties during the past year which, it must be admitted, seem to have a tendency to increase rather than to diminish. The Mount Sinai Training School for Nurses has reason to feel, however, that its encouraging features, as a whole, greatly exceed those of a discouraging nature.

The first and happiest event of the year was the safe return of the personnel of our Base Hospital Unit, and the placing in our Nurses' Home of a beautiful bronze tablet in honor of the Unit and the work of physicians, surgeons and nurses during the world war. The Board of Trustees of the Hospital presented the Training School with this tablet, which is a replica of the one placed as a memorial in the entrance hall of the Hospital.

The Training School has been the recipient of two splendid new endowment funds during the past year. The first, announced early in the year, was the establishment of the Estelle M. and Hugo Blumenthal Graduation Fund, capitalized at $25,000.00, the interest of which is to be divided annually among the pupils of the graduating class on the completion of their three years of training. This fund will furnish not less than $25.00 for each nurse graduating.

The last and most wonderful gift received at any time by the Training School is that of a vacation and recreation fund of $50,000.00. This endowment was presented by Mr. William Scholle and Mr. Frederick Scholle as a memorial to their father, the late Mr. Albert W. Scholle, who was for several years the President of our Training School Board. Suggestions for the use of the income from this fund are being considered, and a definite plan for its use will be developed during the coming year.

These two recent endowment funds bring the sum total of special endowments of our Training School to a sum approximating $140,000.00. The Mount Sinai Training School for Nurses occupies a unique and enviable position in the eyes of the training school and hospital world, because of these splendid and generous endowments. Our School stands practically alone in this respect. No other training school, as far as can be ascertained, has endowment funds which exceed $25,000.00 and few have any, although the value and necessity of such funds is being constantly advocated and emphasized by educators and training school authorities on every side.

Considerable new furniture has been added during the past year to the nurses' rooms. Our dietetic class room has been entirely refurnished with new and beautiful individual equipment which does much to stimulate interest and good work among the student nurses.

A few statistics for the year may be of interest:

Daily average number of pupils in uniform ..	145
Daily average number of probationers .....	16
Daily average number of affiliated nurses....	8
Daily average number of post graduates ....	2
Total daily average .....	171

During the year we received 550 letters of inquiry and application as against 1,200 last year. Of this number 81 were admitted on probation, and 72 accepted as pupil nurses. 69 of the 81 admitted were of American birth, and 11 of Canadian or English birth. Of this group 60% were 21 years of age or under, and 75% of the total number admitted had full high school education or better.

During the entire year 306 cases of illness were reported among the student nurses. Over 90% of these were simple medical cases such as colds, tonsilitis, etc. The majority of the remainder were surgical cases requiring operative measures, or cases of contagion.

It has been necessary because of the change to the eight-hour day to add eight graduate nurses to the staff of the School. The post graduate course of training which had been closed for several years was reopened in September of this year. The inability of our various affiliated schools to keep filled the places reserved for them and the change to the eight-hour day made this course advisable.

Although there has been a marked falling off in the number of applicants to our Training School during the past year, we appear, in this respect, to be much better off than most of the schools of this city. Comparisons with other schools, not only in this city but throughout the entire country, show that because of the long-continued shortage the nursing situation has become very serious and complex. The subject of adequate nursing care for hospital patients is giving considerable food for thought to all Hospital Boards and Training School officials. So long as the present high salaries and wages continue to be paid for untrained, unskilled workers in every line of work, it will probably be impossible to secure groups of women to train as attendants or hospital assistants in sufficient numbers to relieve the nursing situation, and without a large number of suitable applicants from which to choose it is impossible to keep the ranks of the Training School adequately filled.

In an effort to improve conditions in schools of nursing most of the best schools in the city during the past year have attempted to reduce the number of hours of duty so that they shall not exceed fifty-six hours per week, and whenever possible to reduce them to fifty-two hours. This plan was put into effect in our School in October with the understanding that it would be tried experimentally for several months to see whether the change was one which would prove workable and desirable. A change such as this in so large a School was a difficult proceeding, but because of the splendid co-operation on the part of the supervisors and student nurses it was accomplished with but little confusion. A grateful letter of appreciation recently received from the students of the School certainly makes it appear that every effort made to accomplish so desirable a result was indeed worthwhile. It is sincerely hoped that this experiment, so successfully started, may be permanently continued.

A review of the activities of the Training School for this year shows that the usual course of practical and theoretical instruction outlined in our Training School curriculum with two examinations by the State Board of Nurse Examiners has been successfully completed.

The nurses have had many social gatherings, and the pleasure fund has been drawn on for five large parties or danees in which the whole School participated. In addition many opportunities to attend the theater, concerts, etc., have been afforded through the generosity of friends of the School.

As to the actual nursing work accomplished by the students of the School and its value to the Hospital, attention is called to the following facts: During the past year the Hospital admitted and treated 9,800 patients. The Dispensary treated 189,859 patients. The operating room staff performed over 4,000 operations. Our student nurses gave to practically all of these patients their entire nursing care, and they tried to do so to the satisfaction of the patients, the staff, the public and the Hospital Board. Whether or not they succeeded it is for others to say.

The most important change in the personnel of the Training School Staff during the year was that caused by the resignation of Miss Margaret Kerrins, as assistant superintendent of the Training School and the appointment of Mrs. Helen Lees to that position.

Including the pupils who graduate this year, our School now claims 1,142 graduates. Enrolled on our nurses' registry for private duty work are 220 graduates. 3,457 calls were received for nurses during the past year in response to which we were able to furnish 2,675 graduates from our own list. Nurses were secured from other registries for 263 additional cases but the registry was unable to furnish nurses for 782 cases.

The greatest difficulties connected with the Training School during this year may be briefly summed up as follows:

First. The tremendously increased cost of maintenance created by the diminished purchasing power of the dollar.

Second. The unparalleled shortage of nurses, graduate and undergraduate.

Third. The greatly decreased number of suitable applicants for admission to the training school.

Fourth. The difficulty of securing domestic workers.

One of our greatest present problems is that of maintaining comfortable and suitable living conditions in our Nurses' Home. The building is in need of many important repairs and changes and requires painting throughout. It was planned to have this done during the past year, but the labor shortage has so held up the work of the Hospital that it has not been accomplished.

I wish to express my appreciation of the splendid work done during the year by every member of the Training School organization, and to assure them of my grateful appreciation of their efforts in behalf of the Training School.

A schedule of our curriculum as arranged in years and subjects is herewith attached.

LADIES' AUXILIARY SOCIETY

To the Board of Trustees:

I herewith submit the reports of our Treasurer and Secretary for the year 1919:—

In spite of the fact that our sewing meetings have been attended by fewer ladies than in previous years, I am glad to report that we were able to supply the hospital with all its requirements. I will not dwell upon the increased cost of material —suffice it to say that we kept within our allowance from the Federation. This was made possible by the care and efficiency of our purchasing committee.

We deeply mourn the loss of our honored President, Mrs. M. H. Moses, who, although she had resigned in 1918, after 38 years of activity, was always willing to advise us from the wealth of her experience. We shall miss her kindly counsel and cheerful presence.

The year has brought various changes within our Board; our esteemed members, Mrs. Julius Beer and Mrs. John A. Cook have resigned after many years of arduous service but they will continue to take an active interest in our society, which we greatly appreciate.

To our ever helpful and efficient housekeeper, Mrs. Altman, our thanks are again due for her faithful work during the past year.

Respectfully submitted,
MRS. CLARENCE J. HOUSMAN,

President.

REPORT OF THE SOCIAL SERVICE DEPARTMENT

To the Board of Trustees:

It is gratifying to note that the work of the Social Service Department continues to expand. We have been encouraged by the increasing appreciation of the doctors of what medico-social care can accomplish and we are trying to satisfy, as best we can, the more numerous demands which are made upon us. We cannot, however, fulfill all our obligations owing to our limited funds and the inadequate number of staff workers. We would like to do more intensive work on our cases and have the time to do more constructive work in the homes.

The members of the board of the Social Service Auxiliary have continued to take a very active interest in the work and many of the women have given up a very considerable amount of time in serving the department. The regular case meetings have been held regularly once a week and have been fully attended, enabling the members of the Board to keep in close touch with the work of the department and the problems which arise.

Much progress has been made in the care of the cardiac children. The relation between the doctor, the child, the nurse in charge and the home, has become very much closer, giving the opportunity to make definite plans with the family for the future welfare of the patient. Dr. Herman Schwarz and Mrs. Henry S. Glazier, chairman of the cardiac committee, have been in constant touch with the Board of Health, the Board of Education and the Association for the Prevention of Heart Disease, and have taken an active part in the plans which are being formulated for the establishment of new classes for cardiac children in the public schools.

Mrs. Myron I. Borg, in conjunction with the United Hebrew Charities, has conducted an experiment in intensive home treatment for tuberculous families. The chief point emphasized in their selection is the possibility of helping to restore them to a normal condition of health and entire economic independence. The results shown have been so encouraging that the committee has decided to increase the number of families under its care.

Mr. Benedict Erstein has assisted us in installing a new filing system in the Tuberculosis Clinic whereby much time can be saved by our workers in keeping and looking up records. At a glance it can now be ascertained whether the patient is a child or an adult, the stage of disease and when he is to visit a clinic.

As in past years, we endeavored to send as many of our children to the country as possible. 826 children were sent to the country for an average stay of fourteen days. Largely through the personal efforts of Mrs. Boorum, our head worker, approximately 60% were sent free, by co-operating agencies. 290 children were given milk for a period of four months, from June 15 to October 15. With the exception of twenty-three children who lost weight notwithstanding this extra care, the average gain of these children was  $2\frac{3}{4}$  pounds. The funds necessary for this summer work with the children were provided by members of the board of the Auxiliary and some of their friends. Mrs. Louis S. Levy repeated her kind act of the previous summer in providing a vacation home for some of our cardiac girls.

Our classes in corrective exercises have continued to meet at the Union Settlement and individual attention has been given to orthopedic cases in need of it. Besides the girls' class and the boys' class which meet in the afternoon, we have an evening class for working girls. Mrs. Leon Weil has kindly interested herself in the development of these classes.

The Clothes Committee, with Mrs. Paul Baerwald as chairman, has extended its work during the past year and has enabled us to give the necessary clothing to many of our patients. Mrs. Baerwald presents a separate report of the work of her committee.

A new Junior Committee has been formed with Mrs. Max Rossbach acting as chairman. Its chief object is to enlist the interest of some of the younger girls in Hospital Social Service and through their efforts to bring a little additional happiness into the lives of some of the children who were already being assisted medically by the hospital. The committee consists of forty-five members and although it was formed very late in the year, it arranged to give three holiday parties; one to the cardiac children and two for those attending the Children's Health Class. The Union Settlement, always glad to co-operate with us, permitted us to use their rooms for these parties.

An important addition to our program this past year was the appointment of two workers to follow up luetic cases, the expense being borne by members of the Auxiliary and their friends. Lues is most disastrous in its effect upon the patient and menaces not only the family and the community, but future generations as well. Effective treatment for these cases frequently necessitates the services of a social worker. To arrange that the patients come for treatment, that they continue the treatment for a sufficient length of time, that they are impressed with the fact that it is all important that they take proper care of themselves and prevent contagion to others—these are the important duties of the social worker in this field. The tact and discretion necessary to gain the confidence and co-operation of the patients to carry on this work successfully, have been shown by our workers and we have been fortunate in the excellent results which they have attained. Some doctors have feared that in consequence of the engagement of social workers in luetic cases, the patients, fearful that their sickness would become known to others, would refrain from coming to the dispensary. We have kept a record of our cases which show that not only was this fear without foundation, but that many other members of the family have been persuaded to come for examination and have undergone treatment when necessary. This has been a very gratifying phase of the work. We have, however, lost a considerable number of patients who were working and were unable to take the time to come to the dispensary without losing their positions. We have advocated an evening clinic to give these people the opportunity to receive their treatment and earnestly hope that such an evening clinic will be established very soon. The volume of work has increased steadily and we have been obliged to add a third social worker and a clerical worker to our staff. Even with this additional assistance, we have not been able to make as many visits in the homes as we have desired.

A very progressive step in medico-social activity was the establishment of the "Children's Health Class," with Dr. Ira S. Wile as chief. Agencies have existed for the medical supervision of infants, namely the milk stations, which care for children until they are two years old, and the public schools give some medical supervision to their pupils; but the children between the ages of two and six have not had the benefit of any medical supervision. This need was emphasized by a survey made in the "Children's Year" and which has also been included in the program of the New York State Reconstruction Committee. The underlying principle of the Children's Health Class is the preservation of health as opposed to the treatment of disease and aims to correct physical defects in their incipient stages. This class may quite properly be called a medico-social class rather than a medical clinic. The family, rather than the child, is the unit of treatment and a very keen interest and pride in health is instilled both in the children and the mother. The conception of health is the broadest possible, involving not only the physical but also the mental and moral growth of the child. Children are referred to all necessary clinics for examination and treatment and it rests with the social service worker to stress in the home the needs pointed out by the physician. The direct relation of the physician and the patient is of the utmost importance. The interest and co-operation of both the children and the parents have been very encouraging and it is interesting to note that the large number of children coming to the class at present are recommended by their neighbors. And so we feel that a great lesson in the prevention of illness and education in healthful living is being widely disseminated. The per capita cost of this medico-social service is comparatively small and exemplifies the trite but none the less true saying that an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure. A trained dietitian would be most valuable in developing the work of this class and the need of a clinical psychologist, to give more adequate attention to problems of mental disturbances, is strongly urged by Dr. Wile.

With the ending of the great war, there was grave doubt in the minds of many persons as to whether volunteer workers would continue to devote themselves to welfare work. We have been most fortunate in not only retaining our volunteer workers but in adding to their number. Miss Angie Jacobson has arranged for the work of the volunteers, always doing her utmost to provide the type of work which would appeal to them and which was best suited to their ability. We have had thirty-four volunteers who have given valuable assistance in the hospital and dispensary. The majority have acted as clinic secretaries to our physicians in the dispensary; others have served in assisting in operations of tonsillectomy, follow up of surgical cases, doing clerical work, entertaining children in the wards, paying home visits and taking children to and from the country. Last Spring, the Board of Trustees of the Hospital, desirous of showing some recognition of the work of these volunteers, sent letters of appreciation to all who had served six months and certificates were presented to those who had served two years or more. During the summer many of the volunteers are absent from town. Mrs. Arthur Lorsch, chairman of the Children's Committee, realized that it would be valuable to continue to keep the children's records complete through the Summer and arranged and paid for a worker to take the place of the volunteers until their return.

We have endeavored to aid the Federation for the Support of Jewish Philanthropic Societies of New York and to do our share in collecting the necessary funds for the proper development of the Jewish Charities. $32,925.00 was collected for the United Building Fund by members of our Board.

Although we have had to meet the higher cost of running the department, we have managed to develop our activities. It is through the devoted interest of the members of the board of the Auxiliary and the splendid efforts of Mrs. Boorum and the staff that this development has been made possible. I am most appreciative of all that they have accomplished and look forward to their continued co-operation to demonstrate more effectively than ever the value and scope of medico-social work in the future.

Respectfully submitted,

RUTH M. COOK,
President of the Social Service Auxiliary.

---

- A Contribution of $1,500 to the General Fund of the Hospital, if accepted by the Board of Trustees, shall endow a Life Bed. Such a contribution shall entitle the donor thereof, during his or her lifetime, to name a patient from time to time to use and occupy one bed in the general wards of the main Hospital, free of charge.
- A Contribution of $2,500 to the General Fund of the Hospital, if accepted by the Board of Trustees, shall endow a Memorial Bed. Such a contribution shall entitle the donor thereof, during his or her lifetime, to name a patient from time to time to use and occupy one bed in the main Hospital free of charge. Such donor may bequeath that right to a successor appointed by the said donor in his or her last will and testament, or by any other instrument under seal. In the event of such successor being appointed, the rights hereinbefore mentioned shall continue for a period of not over fifty years from the date of such contribution—such period, however, not to end before ten years from the death of the donor.
